PROPOSE PLAN TO SAVE WORLD FROM ATOMIC DESTRUCTION

EISENHOWER FAVORS PEACE TIME TRAINING

General Tells House Committee Russia Has No Slight Thing to Gain By War With U. S.

FAVORS PREPAREDNESS

Washington, Nov. 15—(AP)—Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower told congress today "Russia has no slightest thing to gain by war with the United States" and wants to be a friend.

He added that "there will never be a war between Great Britain and the United States."

Testifying in support of President Truman's request for universal military training, Eisenhower told the house military committee:

"I believe Russia's policy is friendship with the United States. There is in Russia a desperate and continuing concern for the lot of the common man and they want to be friends with the United States."

The general said he knew that some Russians are concerned over criticism of the Soviets by the United States press. But he added "it is difficult" for Russians to understand a free press as it operates in the United States.

His references to the possibility of war with Great Britain or Russia were made in response to questions by comittee members, principally Rep. Parnell Thomas (R-NJ) who asked:

"Who do we have as potential aggressors?"

TRAINING PLAN WOULD NOT AVERT CONFLICTS

Washington, Nov. 15—(AP)—Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower said today if he thought another war inevitable, he wouldn't be her.

"I would haove jumped right out of my plane over the Atlantic," he told the house military committee in answer to a question.

He said he thinks postwar universal military training is essential, but that doesn't mean war can't be avoided.

If it did, he said, civilization might as well give up.

Eisenhower would not specify any nation because he said he could not foretell international developments adding that years ago none thought we would be at war with Germany or Japan.

Right now, he said, "there is no one nation in the world that can challenge a prepared America."

"The greatest single motivating force for world peace today is the organized military potential of the United States," Eisenhower declared.

In testimony prepared for an appearance before the committee, Eisenhower cautioned that the development of war techniques would give the United States no time to prepare if it were attacked again.

Eisenhower contended trained

Joint Communique Issued By Three Great Powers Suggests Creation of a Commission

By the Associated Press

The United States, Britain and Canada today agreed to:

1. Withhold the know-how on the manufacture of the atomic bomb until "effective, reciprocal, and enforceable safeguards acceptable to all nations" are devised.

2. Exchange with any nation scientists and "fundamental scientific information" for peaceful ends on a reciprocal basis.

3. Creation of a commission under the United Nations organization to work speedily for control of atomic energy for peaceful purposes only, for elimination of atomic weapons of all kinds, and for effective safeguards to protect complying nations against the "hazards of violations and evasions" of any outlawing agreement.

4. A declaration that the only complete protection for civilization against the destructive use of scientific knowledge "lies in the prevention of war."

Washington, Nov. 15—(AP)—Creation of a United Nations commission to control the threat of atomic destruction in the world was proposed today by the United States, Great Britain and Canada as the best way to tackle the atomic energy problem.

President Truman and Prime Ministers Attlee and MacKenzie King made this known in a joint communique on their three-power talks.

At the same time, they declared that the three nations, which alone possess the know-how of atomic bomb manufacture, would not share that knowledge until "it is possible to devise effective, reciprocal and enforceable safeguards acceptable to all nations."

The commission which the three leaders proposed at the conclusion of their six-day conference on atomic problems would be charged with the duty to make specific proposals on these four points:

"1. For extending between all nations the exchange of basic scientific information (on all subjects) for peaceful ends.

"2. For control of atomic energy to the extent necessary to ensure its use only for peaceful purposes.

"3. For the elimination from national armaments of atomic weapons and of all other major weapons adaptable to mass production.

"4. For effective safeguards by way of inspection and other means to protect complying states against the hazards of violations and invasions."

The three leaders noted that actually the scientific information "has already been made available to the world," and they added that "it is our intention that all further information of this character that may become available from time to time shall be similarly treated."

Obviously with Soviet Russia primarily in mind, they then said that "we trust that other nations will adopt the same policy, thereby creating an atmosphere of reciprocal confidence in which political agreement and cooperation will flourish."

But as for the detailed knowledge of practical application of atomic energy, the three asserted that should be kept secret until the world is better organized, through the United Nations, to receive it with strong assurances that it would not be used for destructive purposes.

The statement was issued by President Truman, Attlee and MacKenzie King at a White House press conference held about 11:10 a. m. The three completed their deliberations last midnight.

Shortly before scores of newsmen crowded into the president's office, several senators—including Chairman McMahon (D-Conn), of the senate's atomic committee—filed in to witness the signing of the joint statement.

Present also were Secretary of State Byrnes, Admiral William D. Leahy, the president's chief of staff, and other officials.

As silence fell, the president arose behind his desk and told the newsmen that he would read a document signed by the prime ministers and himself.

Any questions, he said, would have to come later when reporters were familiar with the statement. He then read rapidly the entire text.

When he finished he held the text up for those in the room to see the signatures, then informed reporters that was all he had to say.

British Issue Drastic Order In Palestine

Jerusalem, Nov. 15—(AP)—J. V. W. Shaw, British acting high commissioner for Palestine, issued a "punishment by death" warning today to rioters in the all Jewish city of Tel Aviv, where street demonstrations broke out for the second day.

At least one person was killed and 50 were reported injured today as thousands of persons milled in the streets defying a curfew order imposed after last night's outbreaks which resulted in the death of two Jews and the injury of 27 persons.

Unruly crowds again attacked government property, stoned barricades and stormed against several British buildings.

The general disobedience of the curfew order appeared to be a part of the policy of resistance ordered by the secret Jewish resistance movement against continuance of the British policy or restricted Jewish immigration into Palestine. But most Jewish citizens did not appear to approve direct attacks against British soldiers and activities by the torch gangs.

The first casualties developed last night when troops of the British Sixth Parachute (Red Devils) Division fired to break up crowds.

The troops were withdrawn tempararily, but were rushed back into the city today when crowds stoned police trucks this morning

Armament Makers' Trial Is Postponed

By DANIEL DE LUCE

Nuernberg, Nov. 15—(AP)—The international military tribunal granted today a defense otion for a postponement of the war crimes trial of "dying" Gustav Krupp von Bahlen und Halbach until "his physical and mental condition permits it."

The court of the United States, Russia, Great Britain and France ordered charges in the Krupp indictment retained in the docket on the possibility that the 75-year-old armaments maker might recover sufficiently to come to court.

The tribunal quoted findings of its intre-Allied medical commission that Krupp was irremediably suffering from "senile softening of the brain."

The tribunal's interest in speeding the legal pace also seemed to have been demonstrated in a remark by Britain's Lord Justice Geoffrey Lawrence, who said the reading of the 35,000-word indictment in court could be dispensed with if the defense was agreable. He said its contents "already are well known."

PEARL HARBOR PROBE DRAWS GREAT CROWD

Curiosity - Drawn Spectators Press for Standing Room As Hearing Opens

SCENE BEING FILMED

BULLETIN

Washington, Nov. 15—(AP)—Japanese envoys in Washington reported to Tokyo the day before Pearl Harbor that they had been working with "influential" individuals behind their "frontal negotiations" with President Roosevelt and Secretary of State Hull. This was disclosed today in the release by the congressional committee investigating the Pearl Harbor disaster of intercepted diploatic messages sent by the Japanese between July 1, and Dec. 8, 1941.

Washington, Nov. 15—(AP)—Curiosity - drawn spectators filled seats and pressed for standing room today as a joint senate-house committee opened public hearings on the Pearl Harbor disaster.

Available seats were filled long before the 10 a. m. starting hour in the big, ornate caucus room of the senate office building which has a capacity of about 500.

Kleig lights glared over the room as news reel men filmed the scene.

Rear Admiral Husband E. Kimmel, the naval commander at Pearl Harbor when the Japanese attacked, arrived early to claim a front row seat. At a table near the witness chair, Maj. Gen. Walter C. Short, the Hawaiian army commander of 1941, found a vantage point.

It was easily the year's biggest congressional show.

William D. Mitchell, committee counsel, opened the hearings by placing in the record a 253-page printed copy of intercepted Japanese diplomatic messages covering the period between July 1 and December 8, 1941.

He thus made the first official disclosure that American armed forces had broken the Japanese diplomatic code and were reading Japanese messages to Washington and other capitals long before fighting began.

As Chairman Barkley (D-Ky) called the inquiry committee into session, Senators Ferguson (D-Mich) and Brewster (R-Me) protested that they had not had time to read all of the documents before the investigators.

Ferguson and Brewster told their colleagues that it had been "a physical impossibility" for them to read what Ferguson said were "more than 1,000 exhibits" placed in their hands in the last two days.

Barkley replied that all committee members were in the same fix; adding that they probably can catch up on their reading as the hearings go along.

Shortly after the call to order, an electric fuse blew out and plunged the jam-packed room into gloom.

Despite the absence of light and the Republican protests, Barkley ruled that the hearing would go on.

Will Review Supervision Of Germany

By JOHN M. HIGHTOWER
AP Systematic News Editor

Washington, Nov. 15—(AP)—The United States and France have begun talks here on the most critical issue now blocking effective Allied administration of Germany: France's proposal for non-German control of the Ruhr and Rhineland.

This became known today amid strong indications that President Truman and Secretary of State Byrnes are aabout ready to undertake a sweeping review of American administration in Germany.

Their objective will be to try to work out some means of preventing explosive conditions in the Reich from getting worse as winter sets in.

Mr. Truman scheduled a conference today with Byron Price, a special presidential emissary who is just back from a study of the broad question of relations between the battered German people and the American occupation forces.

Similarly the return of Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower has afforded the war and state departments, as well as the White House, an opportunity for a further check on critical German conditions already outlined during the recent conference here of Lt. Gen. Clay, Eisenhower's deputy, and Ambassador Robert Murphy, his chief political advisor.

Communist Drive On Yangtze Looms

By SPENCER MOOSA

Chungking, Nov. 15—(AP)—Chinese Communists have attacked and entered the important highway center of Tsaoyang, 145 miles northwest of Hankow, an official dispatch stated today. It said that street fighting was under way in the town, once won and lost by the Reds in earlier fights.

Observers here believed the attack signalled a Communist drive aimed at cutting the Yangtze river route west of Hankow and thereby preventing downriver movement of government troops.

Another official Chinese report said that Communist attacks have been rendering repairs to the southern section of the Tientsin-Pukow (Tientsin-Nanking) railroad extremely difficult, and that the work might have to be suspended.

Three Jeeps To Feature Big Victory Bond Parade Nov. 24

Three jeeps to be sent to Warren for the Victory Bond parade on Saturday, Nov. 24, by the State Bond Committee, will probably prove to be the most interesting entries in the parade. The Japanese jeep was captured in Okinawa and, while it does not run under its own power, it will be displayed throughout the line of march on a trailer.

The other two jeeps are combat machines, one of which is equipped with a loud speaker. One of these saw action in Okinawa and the other one was one of the first to cross the Rhine into Germany. These two machines do run and will be manned by returned veterans under command of Sergeant Kelly.

The three machines will be parked in various places about town after the parade has disbanded so that all interested people can examine them at close range. One of them will be sent to the East Side business section with a band as soon as possible after the parade ends. The machines will remain in Warren until about six o'clock Saturday, Nov. 24.

Word was received by the Retail Merchants Committee of the Chamber of Commerce today, which is sponsoring the Victory Loan and Christmas Holiday Parade that the Ridgway High school band of fifty pieces has accepted an invitation to be in Warren and participate in the parade.

Underpass On Pennsylvania Avenue In Plans For P. R. R. Improvements To Be Opposed

Tuesday, November 20, at Harrisburg, a meeting will be held with the Department of Forests and Waters relative to the proposed new bridge of the Pennsylvania Railroad across the Allegheny river at or near Warren. Burgess Ray Steber and City Solicitor Sidney Blackman will attend from this city and protest any construction that would call for an underpass on the Pennsylvania avenue crossing at the railroad station.

The Pennsylvania Railroad, in the erection of the bridge to replace the present structure, which is badly worn and over which trains are now moved at slow speed, has two plans.

One of these calls for the construction of a new bridge below FN Tower, the crossings west of the city where Route 6 passes at grade over tracks of the New York Central and the Pennsylvania railroads. This bridge would carry the railroad tracks through the airport and across to the south side of the river. This would eliminate several grade crossings and particularly the ones at FN Tower and at Pennsylvania avenue near the present station. This would also call for placing the Pennsylvania passenger station on the south side. The plan as proposed would cost the railroad company about $3,000,000.

Due to conditions faced by the railroad freight traffic, it is claimed, will show a falling off due to the slowing down of grain and ore

SITUATION IN NORTH CHINA IS DELICATE

Communists and Nationalist Forces Jockey For Position and Clash For Territory

MARINES ARE IMPATIENT

By SPENCER DAVIS

Peiping, Nov. 15—(AP)—Three months after Japan's capitulation, the situation in North China and Manchuria is described as "delicate."

Chinese Communist and Nationalist forces jockey for position and occasionally clash for control of territory which belongs no longer to a foreign enemy.

The Japanese mait for their armies to be disarmed and sent home but the process still is far from complete.

American marines wait impatiently for orders to return home and frequently wonder what brought them to China in the first place.

Some 100,000 Koreans in North China are waiting repatriation.

Small numbers of German Nationals known that eventually they will be sent to the Reich. They await the day with mixed emotions.

Over all, hangs the threat of full scale civil war. Thus far the Chinese civil strife has been more a battle of wits and maneuver, more a paper offensive of rumors and reports than actual pitched engagements.

But all elements of a long and bloody campaign are here. The Communists, who have a strong hold on six provinces, feel they must fight to survive. Central government forces feel they must exterminate all obstacles in the path of a unified China. How far these two forces will go in settling their differences by arms depends upon negotiators who will meet in Chungking Nov. 20

Each day in the vernacular press there are long reports of trouble throughout the provinces of Shantung, Hopeh, Shansi, Honan, Suiyuan and Chahar. It is evident that the Communists seized the initiative and had their armies in motion before the Nationalist troops were fully deployed to the north.

Destruction of vital links in every major railroad from central to North China by Comunist troops and villagers in the areas they freed from the Japanese undoubtedly worked to the greatest disadvantage of troops of Generalissimo Chiang Kai-Shek. Nationalist troops on the other hand have the moral value of 60,000 American marines present in the Peiping Tientsin and Tsingtao areas of North China and the assistance

Seek To Prevent Fleeing of Vets

Harrisburg, Nov. 15—(AP)—Under orders from Governor Martin state police were working today with local authorities to prevent "fleecing" of newly discharged veterans who come from the nearby Indiantown Gap Military Reservation.

Col. C. M. Wilhelm, state police commissionar, said detectives have been assigned both to Harrisburg and Lebanon to aid in any problems that might arise concerning the servicemen.

At the same time Liquor Control Board agents were visiting all taprooms and liquor dispensing spots in the area to emphasize to licensees their responsibility for observing the liquor laws and regulations.

The two state agencies went into action after Governor Martin ordered a "clean-up" of the area following complaints that servicemen were losing thousands of dollars while passing through the city enroute to their homes.

New Threats Of Strikes On Labor Front

By the Associated Press

New strike threats affecting communications and shipping appeared along the nation's labor front today. Work stoppages throughout the country kept idle some 275,000 men and women.

A strike of more than 7,000 long distance telephone operators in Illinois, disrupting service in Chicago and about 100 other communities in Illinois and Indiana, was indicated after a breakdown in wage negotiations.

In San Francisco William Burke of the CIO American Communications Association said the Pacific Telephone & Telegraph Co. had refused to negotiate or arbitrate on the union's demand for a 20 per cent wage increase for long distance telephone maintenance workers.

Also in San Francisco, the AFL Steamfitters Local urged that strike action be taken by Nov. 25 by all AFL Shipyard Workers on the Pacific coast.

In Seattle, the Alaska Steamship Company's entire passenger fleet was tied up in a union dispute involving issues of overtime and the use of passenger dining rooms for meetings at sea.

The closing of assembly lines in the Buick and Fisher body plants in Flint, Mich., because of a parts shortage from an Ohio feeder plant, forced 5,000 workers from their jobs.

ARLINE RUTH GOODARD KILLED INSTANTLY IN DISCHARGE OF OWN GUN WHILE IN WOODS

Fatality Occurs In Vicinity of Brown Hill While Unfortunate Young Lady Is Seeking Game In Company With Father, Brother and Sister

FOURTH VIOLENT DEATH IN FAMILY IN FEW YEARS

Arline Ruth Goodard, 16, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Bert Goodard, Brown Hill, Sugar Grove township was almost instantly killed Wednesday afternoon on the farm adjoining that of her parents when a Stevens, bolt action, gun was discharged while she was hunting. The girl with her sister, Mrs. Ralph Dalrymple, 117 Dartmouth street, was engaged in hunting squirrels and the safety mechanism on her gun stuck. Leaning over to adjust it she placed the butt of the gun on the ground with the muzzle resting against her breast. The gun discharged and the girl fell mortally wounded. The body was removed to the Schoonover Funeral Home at Sugar Grove. Coroner Ed C. Lowrey, Sheriff L. C. Linder and State Patrolman J. R. Krupey opened an investigation.

Miss Goodard, a second year student at the Sugar Grove High School yesterday went with her father, a brother Merle and her sister, Mrs. Dalrymple, on a hunting trip in the vicinity of Sugar Grove. They hunted several hours and the men secured some squirrels. Returning to the Goodard home the girls after lunch determined to go out again or the Goodard and Ted Brooks farm to get some game as up until that time they had shot nothing.

Mrs. Dalrymple in describing the accident to the officials said "Arline, "Tiny" as we called her proposed we go get some squirrel as Dad and Merle had some. We took our guns and went up the hill. The dog started a rabbit and it ran some distance and holed up. We then started out again and the dog started another rabbit. As it ran we looked to see which way it was going to circle. I saw Tiny lean over adjusting the safety on her gun. I yelled at her 'Don't do that, Tiny, and then I looked away to see which way the rabbit was going. Suddenly I heard the gun go 'wham' and just as I looked I saw Tiny throw up her arms and fall. I ran to her and felt for her pulse but there was none. So I started for the house yelling for help and I fainted. When I came to Dad was beside Tiny. She was dead".

Arline Ruth Goodard was born May 18, 1929 at the family home on Brown Hill and has passed her life there. She was an ardent follower of out of door sports and enjoyed hunting to the utmost being an exceptionally good shot. She attended the Sugar Grove High School and was an apt student holding a high place in her classes. Dark haired and good looking she was popular with a wide circle of friends.

She is survived by her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Bert Goodard and the following brothers and sisters: Merle Goodard, at home; Evelyn Peterson, Yankee Bush; Ethel Bush, Waterford, RD 4; Mrs. Ralph Dalrymple, Warren; Margaret Hepler, 709 Liberty street, Corry; Ellen Goodard, Sugar Grove; Louise Goodard, Warren and Franklin, at home.

Tragedy has followed the family for a number of years. The death of Arline marks the fourth member to meet a violent end. One son Richard lost his life with the U. S. Forces, in the Philippines four months ago; another son Howard, suffered a gunshot wound while hunting 12 years ago in the same field in which his sister died yesterday. Howard was shot in one leg and died in the Warren General Hospital. Another son, Clifford lost his life in an auto-

Two Seriously Hurt In Blast At Clarendon

Louis Campbell, 39, and Herman Fox, 35, of Clarendon are in the Warren General Hospital in a critical condition as the result of burns sustained this morning about 9:40 o'clock when the gas tank on a truck exploded throwing gasoline over them. The men employed by the M. N. Landay Wrecking Company, of Pittsburgh were endeavoring to start an old White truck at the plant of the Bradford-Penn Refining Company when the explosion took place. They were removed at once to the Warren General Hospital and attaches say their condition is "most serious".

The Landay Company had an old White truck, with the gas tank on the side, built into a wrecking truck. On it was mounted a winch with a steel cable which was used in lifting heavy pieces of wreckage as the refinery is being torn down. In some manner the feed line on the truck leading from the tank to the engine became clogged and the two men were working in an endeavor to open it. Both were standing on the side of the truck where the tank was located and when the explosion took place, they were knocwed down by the blast and blazing gasoline was hurled over them.

The sound of the explosion drew fellow workmen to their side and first aid was promptly given. Mrs. Fox, wife of one of the injured men heard the explosion and rushed from her home with blankets to give first aid to the injured, not knowing at the time that her husband was involved in the accident.

The Lutz and Peterson ambulances from Warren were summoned and the men speeded to the hospital. Treatment was given them and restoratives applied but their burns cover such an area of their bodies that their condition is extremely serious.

Inner Circle Posts In Japan May Go

By RUSSELL BRINES

Tokyo, Thursday, Nov. 15—(AP)—Abolition of the key position, lord keeper of the privy seal, but retention of the remainder of the cumbersome inner circle around the emperor was reported today by the newspaper Asahi as the current plan for "democratization" of the throne.

The newspaper said the plan resulted from conferences of representatives of the cabinet, the privy seal, the imperial household ministry, the privy council and senior statesmen seeking a method of keeping pace with prospective revision of the constitution.

The plan will be effected "at an appropriate opportunity," Asahi reported. Its only concession to prospective party government is inclusion of the presidents of both houses of the diet on a board to participate in the selection of new premiers.

Marx Brothers Through With Movies By a Two to One Vote

By BOB THOMAS

Hollywood, Nov. 15—(AP)—The Marx Brothers are through with the movies, by a two to one vote.

The brothers are working on "Adventures in Casablanca" in partnership with David Loew and they think this one is their swan song. Said Harpo, who paradoxically is the most vocal of the brethren: "It's just too much work. We started on the story of this picture last January and it will be a year by the time of the final preview."

Groucho was even more vehement. "Why should a man in his declining years spend all day cooped up in a cracker box?" he asked, referring to his dressing room. "Then somebody tells him to be funny in front of the camera for three minutes. Nuts to that business. The only reason I'm making this picture is because in five years I had forgotten how miserable it could be."

I found Chico much more conciliatory. "Sure I like making pictures," he said. "I like everything that has to do with show business. But if Harpo and Groucho don't want to work, what can I do?"

One reason why the brothers may never do another picture is that it is too hard to get them together. After "Casablanca," Harpo may make a picture with Ben Hecht and then tour Europe. Chico plans to play in South America and England. And Groucho thinks he's stick to radio work and writing.

Ingrid Bergman's daughter, seven-year-old Pia, saw the "Spellbound" ad in which her mother is cuddled close to an open razor. She asked Ingrid pleadingly if she could see the picture. Mother said no.

"As yet, I haven't let her see any of my pictures," she said, "because I don't think any of them have been suitable for her to see. The first picture of mine I will let her see is 'The Bells of St. Mary's' and I'm anxious to see what she'll think of me."

It's doubtful if Nia will see her mother's present picture, "Notorious." In it she appears drunk, gets into browls and marries a German agent.

Sgt. Broderick Crawford gets out of the army at Dayton, Ohio, this Friday and will return to a Universal contract. . . . Walter Huston turned down the Charles Winninger role in the "Show Boat" revival because he would rather do a new play. It will be "Apple of His Eye" for Jed Harris. . . . Carole Landis sent a garter to Hollywood correspondents, inviting them to put it on at the "Scandal in Paris" set. Ten of the old wolves showed up in one afternoon. And a young one . . . The baby of Dotty Lamour and Bill Howard will be christened in Baltimore. It seems the Howard family has always had the children christened there.

PROVIDES MUCH WORK

Pennsylvania's five-year $345,000,000 highway program "will provide two million man-days annually in direct labor on the job," Governor Martin said in his 11th report on his administration's activities. Another 36,000 workers will have full-time employment in providing necessary equipment and supplies, Martin said.

STAMP ON SALE

The new Coast Guard stamp went on sale at the Post Office today. The stamp is a three-cent green horizontal stamp and pictures Coast Guard vessels running ship to shore service. The dates, 1790, the year of the organization's founding, and 1945, appear at the bottom of the stamp.

MANY TRAFFIC ACCIDENTS

Traffic accidents cost the lives of 33- persons in Pennsylvania in the first nine months of 1945, the Bureau of Highway Safety reported today. The total was 21 more than in the corresponding period last year. A month-by-month increase in deaths began in June, the bureau noted. The rise amounted to 2.6 per cent in built-up areas and 2.2 per cent in rural districts.

RESTORATION FUND SUNDAY

The coming Sunday, November 18th, will be Restoration Fund Sunday in the 8,630 Presbyterian churches throughout the country and special emphasis will be placed on the current campaign to provide the $27,000,000 fund which the church organization is endeavoring to raise for World Council of Churches at Geneva to be administered supplementary to UNRRA.

DEATH RATE DOWN

The modern treatment of pneumonia has reduced the death rate from the decease by more than two thirds in the past eight years, report the statisticians of the Metropolitan Life Insurance Company. Terming this reduction in mortality "one of the phenomenal achievements of modern medicine" the statisticians note that in the decade of the 1920's death rates from this disease hovered around an average of 75 per 100,000 among the company's industrial policyholders; in the first nine months of the current year the death rate was down to the record low figure of 20 per 100,000.

TO DISCONTINUE OFFICE

The Wage Stabilization field office of the wage hour and public contracts divisions, U. S. Department of Labor, located at Erie since November, 1942, will be discontinued during the week of November 12, it was announced today by Frank J. G. Dorsey, regional director, at his headquarters in Philadelphia. The Erie office has been open for wage stabilization work on Thursdays and Fridays. From the time this field office was open until November 2, 1945, a total of 7709 queries pertaining to wage stabilization was handled by the inspector assigned to that area.

SIC SEMPER TYRANNIS

One newspaper obituary of Field Marshal August von Mackensen spoke of him as "the hawk-faced little soldier." Probably few of us who remember him, by way of photographs, from the first World War ever thought of him as being small. He had a tall, imposing look.

Hawk-eyed he was. That face, with its fierce mustache and wild, burning eyes, was almost as devoid of flesh and blood as the grinning death's head that adorned the tall fur shako of his hussar's uniform. He was quite a figure—the perfect symbol of Prussian militarism.

Yet Mackensen was small. Or at least he lost as much stature through the years as the militarism which he symbolized.

Mackensen, nearly 96 when he died, had entered the German army when he was 20. Bismarck's iron fist ruled the reich in those days, and young Mackensen served Bismarck well in the Franco-Prussian war. He He served Wilhelm II even better in 1914-18, winning a series of spectacular victories on the Eastern Front.

He also served Hitler, but only as a show horse. His aging bones wouldn't permit anything more active. They trotted him out to make speeches and to pose, in his death's head hat and gold-braided uniform, as the embodiment of a lost glory.

But he lived too long. And when the Allied troops captured him the aged hero of Galicia, the man who had seen and participated in the rise and fall of the German Empire, was feebly tottering about his farm and cursing the Russian soldiers for making off with his chickens.

He still wore his hussar's uniform and his fur shako. But both were looking considerably shabby and moth-eaten.

WHO'LL DO K. P.?

War Secretary Patterson put forth a persuasive plea for universal military training the other day when he disclosed the strange plight of our peacetime Army. It seems that, with the way things are shaping up at present, it's going to be an Army of sergeants and officers. The privates just aren't re-enlisting.

It seems doubtful that even in the age of the atomic bomb, mechanization and intense specialization, an army can be run without the humble doughfoot. For one thing, who's going to peel the spuds and police the camp and do all the other jobs that a noncom wouldn't lay hand to? It's a dilemma, even in peacetime.

Obviously, Mr. Wallace's era of the common man hasn't yet arrived in military circles. And obviously something will have to be done about it.

All the folks out in the rural sections of Pennsylvania who have been preening themselves over the prospect of securing a share of the road improvements to be provided with Pennsylvania's post-war spending have taken a severe jar. With $57,000,000 to be spent in Pittsburgh and an equally large sum to be allocated to Philadelphia it looks like the rest of the state just didn't have enough votes.

The sympathy of the entire county is extended the family, friends and school associates of Arlene Ruth Goddard, Sugar Grove High student, who was instantly killed while hunting in the vicinity of Brown Hill with her father, brother and sister, Wednesday afternoon. The young woman leaves a host of friends who are bowed in grief over her untimely death.

The Retail Merchants' Bureau of the Chamber of Commerce is hard at work completing plans to present a bang-up Victory Loan and Christmas Shopping parade in Warren, Saturday, November 24th. From our knowledge of the plans we can assure everyone a parade that will be quite in keeping with the very successful one last staged before Pearl Harbor.

There are more villians in the movies these days. They stick gum under the seats.

WE WON THE WAR—But the Cost Goes On—Buy Victory Bonds.

Everybody reads the Times-Mirror

Washington Daybook

By JACK STINNETT

WASHINGTON — The mushrooming of new veterans' organizations or the expansion of old ones to capture members among the veterans of World War II is hardly news these days.

But one new veterans' group can stand an introduction because it is certain to be in the thick of several fights that will determine the future defense policies of the United States. It is the newly organized Reserve Officers of the Naval Services.

RONS, as its organizers refer to it, already has established headquarters here in the morning shadows of the White House at 1726 Pennsylvania Avenue.

INTERIM president is Capt. George S. Piper. Until he returned recently to civilian life, he was aide to former Under Secretary of the Navy Ralph Bard. One of the four vice presidents is Lt. Comdr. Douglas Fairbanks, Jr. Secretary is Lt. Comdr. Harry Byrd, Jr., son of the Virginia senator; and among executive committee and advisory council members, are such names as Commodore James K. Vardaman, naval aid to President Truman; Capt. Gene Markey, Hollywood writer; Comdr. Eugene Carusi and Col. James J. Keating of the Marine Corps.

Organizational work in all states is now under way, according to Executive Director Lt. Comdr. B. J. Darneille. RONS' goal is to become spokesmen for the 300,000 reserve officers of the Navy, Coast Guard and Marines.

RONS officials here emphasize that the new group is entirely independent of the Navy Department, but Capt. Piper "points with pride" to a best wishes letter from Secretary of the Navy Forrestal, himself a Naval Reserve officer from World War I.

THE organizers and interim officials point out that their policies will be determined later by the membership itself, but they list some interesting basic objectives.

First, to stimulate through a politically independent national organization a continuing interest in the naval services and provide a medium through which their recommendations may be made known.

Second, to consider and take positive action eventually on (1) the proposed merger of the armed services; (2) universal military service; (3) the organization and administration of a permanent reserve personnel; and (4) the encouragement of scientific research and development.

THIS is interesting, because heretofore the Navy has done most of its public speaking through active or retired regular Navy officials or through established veterans groups which are of course numerically overwhelmingly Army organizations.

There appears to be a pretty good chance that RONS can build itself into something more than just "another Washington lobby."

From where I sit ... by Joe Marsh

Only one side to our railroad tracks

Folks who are better off in our town live on the west side of the railroad tracks. We've got a lake there, and the local park, and some real nice land.

There used to be a phrase "from the wrong side of the tracks." It meant what you think . . . but you don't hear it any more. Not since Charlie Jenkins came home with the Purple Heart, and Willie Wells got the Silver Star. There isn't any "wrong side" of the railroad tracks now!

And that change is going on all over America . . . where our heroes have come from obscure homes . . . and greatness has overshadowed wealth and shallow social definitions.

From where I sit, it all comes down to tolerance . . . tolerance for what a man is and does . . . tolerance for his freedom and opinions, whether he's rich or poor, likes beer or cider, Shakespeare or the comic section. It's a great thing—tolerance!

Joe Marsh

Danny Kaye Tells Adventures In Blazing Japanese Cirsuit

By BOB THOMAS

Hollywood, (AP)—Added to his many other accomplishments, Danny Kaye is now "the first actor into Tokyo."

I caught Danny as he came from the plane that brought him back from a 32,000-mile entertainment tour across the Pacific. His blonde hair was shaggy, his USO uniform was rumpled and he was rattling on about "the greatest experience of my life."

In their six-weeks tour Danny and Leo Durocher blazed a new theatrical circuit. They were the first entertainers to play before American troops in Japan and Korea. Actually it was a return engagement for Danny. He appeared in Tokyo in 1934. He found the theatre he played in had been turned into a factory.

One of the biggest kicks Danny got out of the trip was a half-hour conversation with Gen. Douglas MacArthur. He said the general sees movies every night and sounded rather hep about show business. The comic's other great experience was playing a show near Hiroshima. He said the atomic destruction was unbelievable.

Part of Danny's act was to answer questions about Hollywood. He said there always was a question about Frank Sinatra, followed by loud laughter.

"Then I told them about Frankie, that he had gotten some bad publicity at first, but that he has a lot of lasting talent and is sincere and intelligent. I told them I was proud to have him as a friend."

The inevitable result, Danny said, was a burst of loud cheering.

Take a lesson in figures from Dana Andrews. Not the kind you're thinking of—Dana is happily married. I'm talking about Moola.

Dana is guaranteed to earn at least $1,500,000 in the next seven years, as long as he can raise an eyebrow before the camera. That's just a minimum—he can also make $50,000 a year from radio and lots more from the two outside pictures he is allowed.

Dana recently completed a deal with his two bosses, Samuel Goldwyn and 20th Century-Fox and it's the kind that actors lose sleep over. It's absolutely ironclad. Thrifty Dana supports his family on $1,000 a month, a small amount for a Hollywood celebrity, and he plans to save $25,000 a year out of his salary. That should insure a comfortable old age.

As a topper, Dana got $90,000 in retroactive pay from Samuel Goldwyn, which is no mean feat. Dana gets to keep $15,000 of it, so he shouldn't have to worry about cigarette money for a while.

Roz Russell is glowing because (1) she finally started "Sister Kenny"; (2) her husband, Col. Fred Brisson, was awarded the Legion of Merit by General Arnold; (3) Lt. George Russell returned safely from the wars, the third of her brothers to do so . . . Many musicians are getting out of uniform and trying to round up bands. Guitarist Alvina Rey and Skeets Herfort, Ex-Tommy Dorsey, are the latest . . . . Master Sgt. Ezra Stone, on the air again as Henry Aldrich, will also direct the Michael Todd show, "January Thaw." . . . .

Alice Faye won't do a picture until after the holidays and then it will probably be "Mother Wore Tights." On her they should look good.

Carbon monoxide and hydrogen, when mixed in the proportion of one of the former to two of the latterfi become the so-called synthetic gason, from which synthetic oils are formed.

Colombia is the only nation in South America with both an Atlantic and a Pacific seaboard.

CORYDON

Carydon, Nov. 12—Mrs. James W. Crooks was a hostess recently at a delightful evening party that included eighteen guests. In the nature of a home coming reunion honoring Louis Sears, of Akeley the time was spent socially and with games after which Mrs. Crooks served lovely refreshments. Coming from away were Mr. and Mrs. Jefferson Sears, Louis Sears, Miss Alberta Sears, Miss Bernice Lundmark, Mr. and Mrs. Franklin Nordland, Akeley, Mr. and Mrs. Bernard Joy, Charles Joy, Mrs. Mary Kerwin, Warren, Mr. and Mrs. J. K. Crooks, Mr. and Mrs. Nelson Crooks and Miss Margaret Crooks were present from here.

Owing to darkness coming on a most capable young aviator by name of Smith, flying a Taylor Cub made a forced landing here at 5:30 o'clock Thursday evening last bringing his plane down in fine shape in a field on the O. J. Tome farm. He was accompanied by his wife, the young couple spending the night with Mr. and Mrs. P. E. Tome. The plane a new one was being flown to Kansas state from the factory in Lock Haven. Friday morning Mr. Smith made a successful takeoff enroute to destination but not before treating Master Philip Tome to a ride, the plane circling gracefully high above the village.

Shirley Sparks, Janet Schuler and Helen Sparks were tendered a surprise birthday party at the school Friday by the teacher Mrs. Margaret Coates, assisted by students. It was a birthday party with nothing left undone to make it pleasurable. There were birthday cakes among other refreshments served and the small honored guests were recipients of numerous tokens.

Mrs. Edna Tome, was hostess for the Wednesday evening social club members. Following two tables of five hundred in play refreshments were attractively presented. The high score and slam gift was awarded to Mrs. Jessie Bennett, Mrs. Gladys Smith, second high, consolation, Mrs. Beulah Burch.

Members of the Foreign Missionary Workers of the Nazarene church met with Mrs. B. M. Stoltz. Those present spent time piecing blocks. The church presents fine appearance, the structure inside having recently been newly redecorated, in addition the Hunt Furniture Company of Salamanca, on Thursday and Friday last laid new carpet.

It is with regret we overlooked the eighty-third birthday anniversary November first, of O. C. Sparks, one of the community's best known and highly respected citizens however we know the community joins in expressing congratulations as well as every good wish to the Corydon resident.

"Pat and his Harmony Boys" orchestra from Bradford, pleased the large turnout of dancers present for the affair Friday evening in IOOF hall. Sponsored by the Grange organization of the community the twice monthly events are proving quite popular. There were a goodly number coming from away that included Mr. and Mrs. J. J. Swatt accompanied by friends, Mr. and Mrs. Joe Whyte, Mr. and Mrs. David Whyte, Mrs. Mary Miller, Bradford, Mrs. Gerald Peck and others from Warren. The next is planned for Thanksgiving evening.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Weinold, Miss Dorothy Fogle, Kinzua residents accompanied by Junie Bennett, of Corydon, spent the weekend in Buffalo.

Cadet Nurse Bette Leichner was here last weekend to visit her parents and brothers the George Leichners.

Mr. and Mrs. J. B. Henderson, Pittsburgh, were weekend visitors of the Charles Whytes as well as other relatives.

MANY NEVER SUSPECT CAUSE OF BACKACHES

This Old Treatment Often Brings Happy Relief

Many sufferers relieve nagging backache quickly, once they discover that the real cause of their trouble may be tired kidneys.

The kidneys are Nature's chief way of taking the excess acids and waste out of the blood. They help most people pass about 3 pints a day.

When disorder of kidney function permits poisonous matter to remain in your blood, it may cause nagging backache, rheumatic pains, leg pains, loss of pep and energy, getting up nights, swelling, puffiness under the eyes, headaches and dizziness. Frequent or scanty passages with smarting and burning sometimes shows there is something wrong with your kidneys or bladder.

Don't wait! Ask your druggist for Doan's Pills, a stimulant diuretic, used successfully by millions for over 40 years. Doan's give happy relief and will help the 15 miles of kidney tubes flush out poisonous waste from your blood. Get Doan's Pills.

WAKE UP YOUR DIGESTION BELOW THE BELT

Without Stomach Relievers

This Kind of Laxative Help Often Needed When Lower Sluggishness Causes Gassy, Bloating Misery

When most food leaves the stomach, it is by no means fully digested. It is in the 28 feet or more of intestines that the greater part of digestion is done. When we get constipated these later stages of digestion often slow down. Then food is apt to ferment and decay excessively in the bowels. As a result we may feel full of gassy bloating and other indigestion miseries. That's when you need Beecham's Pills. They work to relieve this congestion of waste and encourage the welcome elimination which helps promote better digestion below the belt. Ask your druggist for gentle, all-vegetable Beecham's Pills today. Caution: Use only as directed. 25¢.

More Than Eighty Attend Kiwanis Club Ladies' Night Party at North Warren

The annual ladies' night staged by the local Kiwanis Club in the North Warren Community house Wednesday evening proved one of the most delightful parties in the long history of the organization. About eighty were in attendance including members and their ladies

The tables for the dinner, served by members of the Civic Club of North Warren, were decorated in a fall motif, corn cobs and yellow candles blending with baby chrysanthemums and other fall flowers. This feature of the party was in charge of Russell Hanson and his committee and drew many words of praise from the members and guests.

President J. R. Elliott presided and Webster Sechrist said grace before the dinner. The group singing was led by A. N. McCausland with R. Pierce Eaton at the piano. A number of guests and new members were introduced before special prizes were awarded the ladies by H. J. Ledebur and his committee.

The winner of the grand prize was Mrs. Gust Carlson. Other winners were Mrs. Charles Springer, Mrs. O. E. Loper, Mrs. Arnold Whren, Mrs. Jay McCausland, Mrs. H. W. Ledebur, Mrs. J. A. Blomquist, Mrs. H. W. Baker, Mrs. Roy Guignon, Mrs. Webster Sechrist, Mrs. H. D. Harris, Mrs. Everett Stoke, Mrs. J. R. Elliott, Mrs. L. E. Morlock, Mrs. James Miller and Mrs. George Irvin.

Following this, the evening was devoted to cards, bowling and round and square dancing. Music for the dancing was furnished by a trio composed of Mrs. Frank Nelson at the piano, Don Jones, drums, and Edgar Svensen violin. Calling for the square dances was by Lester Akeley.

Credit for the success of the party was due to the hard work and planning of L. E. Morlock and his committee in charge of arrangements.

There has been considerable interest in the Book Week exhibits at the Warren Public Library this week. The gallery is filled with the exhibits, which also include the prize Clare Tree Major play posters. The remainder of the posters will be on display next week. Children in the boys' and girls' department have been busy with the Book Week game, attempting to outshoot Robin Hood. The displays of new books give many reading and gift book suggestions for children and parents. There are also special displays centered in the Book Week theme, "United Through Books." International friendliness is again being stressed this year, with displays of the literature of many nations. The climax of Book Week will be the radio presentation of "Alice in Wonderland", for which the children have been rehearsing. The book is one of the children's favorites today, just has it has been ever since Lewis Carroll wrote it.

Jamestown Man Gives Fine Talk To BPW Members

Holding their November meeting at the YWCA activities building following dinner on Tuesday evening, members of the Warren Business and Professional Women's Club enjoyed an informal, but very interesting and informative talk on synthetic fabrics, given by Harry Ingleson, of Jamestown, N. Y. His talk dealt principally with changes in style trends which closed many of the country's worsted mills and the efforts made to find synthetic fibres through chemical research. He illustrated many of his points with samples of fabrics and answered questions at the close of his remarks.

He was presented to the club by Wyona Stone, chairman of the evening's committee, who with her assistants had provided a lovely table setting of fall flowers and candles, with place cards indicative of Thanksgiving.

President Ruth Fenderson conducted the business session which followed when reports were given by Violet Peterson, Ethel Patchen and Viola Lindmark. Mrs. Daisy Branch was welcomed as a new member and Mrs. Byron Ensworth was presented as a special guest who had aided materially in a recent club project. Gladys Wilson, transferred here from the Youngsville Club, was also greeted.

Individual members contributed a total of $25 for Christmas bags to be sent to Deshon Hospital and plans were made for Christmas. A report by Lila Schuler showed 49 members had contributed a total of 119 items and $5 in cash for the recent Needlework Guild collection.

World Fellowship Program At the YWCA Saturday

The YWCA world fellowship committee is completing plans for its observance of World Fellowship Week at the activities building on Saturday of this week, when the program scheduled at 2:30 o'clock will feature Rev. Edward K. Rogers as speaker. Rev. Rogers has recently returned from serving as an army chapel overseas and will bring a message that will be of interest to all.

As in the past years, buying a ticket for the World Fellowship program really means that one is making a contribution to the world work of the Y. W. C. A. The Y. W. C. A. is at work in 62 countries and no one can doubt that the needs are varied and many. Last year Warren's contribution to the World Work of the Y. W. C. A. was $149.10. It is hoped that this year Warren will better its record.

Interest has been evident in the sale and use of the Y. W. C. A. World Fellowship stamps. This red, white and blue stamp was designed to be used by associations in promotion of the World Fellowship Work and pictures the blue triangle which is the symbol of the Y. W. C. A. throughout the world, a globe and the words Y. W. C. A. World Fellowship. The Warren Y. W. C. A. still has some of these stamps, the proceeds of which go to the World Fellowship Fund. Those who have not yet shared in the worldwide service of the Y. W. C. A. can do so by purchasing the seals from committee and board members or at the Y. W. C. A. on Saturday afternoon at the World Fellowship program.

Catholic Women Have Anniversary

The Catholic Daughters of America, Court No. 834, observed their 22nd anniversary with a birthday dinner at the YWCA last evening at 6:30 o'clock with 85 members and guests in attendance.

Tables were beautifully appointed with the court's colors, purple and gold. Floating candles and chrysanthemums of the same color scheme were used throughout.

Mrs. F. J. Kotmair was toastmistress for the evening. Guest speakers included Rev. M. E. Dailey and Rev. Alfred Bauer, of Warren, and Rev. M. J. Macken of Clarendon. Mrs. G. B. Monroe gave a very interesting and amusing review of the history of the C. D. of A. since 1922. Mrs. W. E. Cooney, grand regent, congratulated the committee on its splendid work in preparing the menu and clever table arrangements.

A varied musical program was enjoyed with group singing. Mrs. G. W. Cunningham, guest soloist for the evening, sang "Oh What a Beautiful Morning and "The Irish Lullaby" accompanied by Mrs. T. Donnelly.

The committee in charge of the affair was capably handled by Mrs. F. J. Kotmair, assisted by Miss Laura Plateroti, and Mrs. Roy Baker, co-chairmen

Children's Music For Philomel Club

Conducting the regular meeting of the Philomel Club on Wednesday afternoon in the Woman's Club, Mrs. Mayme Ekey, president paid special tribute to a recently departed member, Mrs. John Cable, who was active in all club affairs so long as her health permitted. A moment of silence was observed as a tribute to her memory.

A welcome was extended to three new members, Barbara DeFrees, Rosalia Creal and Jean Sugerman, and to two members recently reinstated, Alice Leidig and Anna G. Snyder.

Mrs. Ekey called attention to the evening recital to be given November 28 by Byron Swanson and Elanore Swanson, urging all members to be in attendance.

The program was then turned over to Mary Conway, who had planned a delightful selection of musical scenes from childhood.

Concluding, tea was served from a pretty table in the club dining room by Mrs. Ernest Hagenlocher, Mrs. Everett Eddy, Mrs. Carl Lindquist, Adelaide Swanson, Mrs. Anthony Valone, Mrs. Emil Jacobson, Evelyn Wolstencroft, Mrs. James Alsdale, Mrs. Barrelle, and Mrs. J. L. Hunter.

THE BIG VICTORY LOAN IS ON!
BUY EXTRA BONDS!

WHAT FOR?
THE WAR IS OVER!

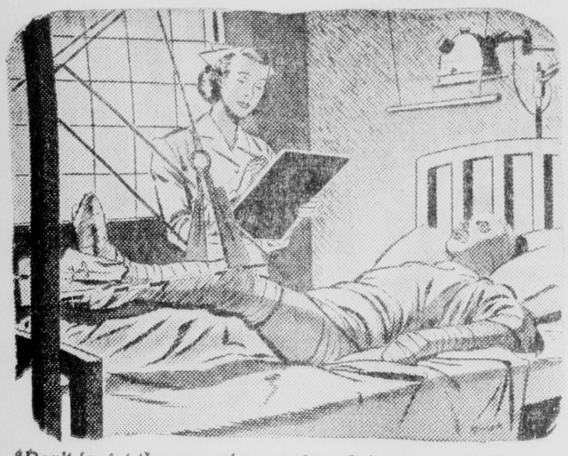

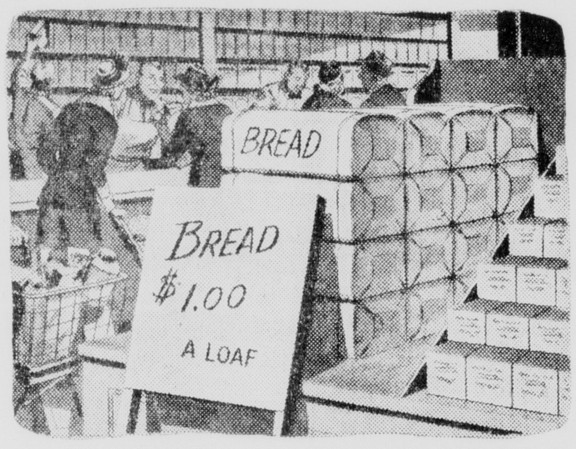

SURE!.. BUT THE NEED ISN'T!
HERE'S WHY!

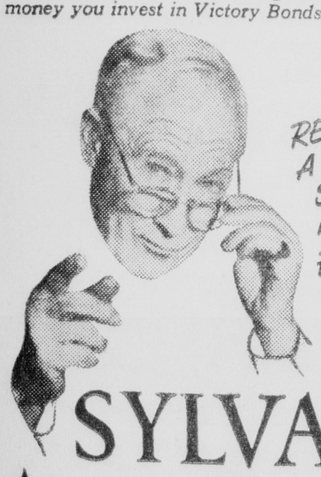

"There are a couple of million Americans overseas. They've fought and won a mighty tough war for us. Now they're anxious to come home. Bringing 'em home takes money—plenty of money—just as much as it cost to send them over. You can figure out that one yourself."

"Don't forget the men who were hurt fighting our war! They need care—the very best. And that, friend, is a major expense. And how about the millions of fellows being discharged? They certainly rate mustering-out pay, and the benefits provided by the G. I. Bill of Rights. All this costs money—money you invest in Victory Bonds."

"Inflation is an old scare—but a very real one. Right now, Americans have unlimited buying power. If we unleash that power all at once, while commodities are still limited... just you watch prices skyrocket! Your hard-earned dollars won't be worth very much then. Think it over! And buy extra bonds with your extra bucks to guard against run-away prices."

Citation For Carrier Unit

Word has been received from S/Sgt. Keith Culbertson, Kinzua, who is now based at Nanking, China, that his unit, the 315th Troop Carrier Squadron, has received the Distinguished Unit Citation, which reads in part:

"For outstanding performance of duty in action from Sept. 5 to Sept. 30, 1945. Upon capitulation of the Japanese and the cessation of hostilities in China, it became immediately necessary for Chinese forces to be placed in a position to control the beaten enemy and enforce surrender terms. Due to the extreme urgency of the situation, it was essential to travel by the fastest means.

"The 443rd Troop Carrier Group, 1st, 2nd and 315th Troop Carrier Squadrons, assigned, and the 322nd Troop Carrier Squadron, attached, were given the high priority mission of transporting an entire Chinese army of 30,000 men from Chihkiang to Nanking. Within one week the group moved itself from the base at Dinjan, India, over The Hump to Chihkiang, China, where a field camp was established and operations begun under arduous field conditions.

"In 26 days the groups moved more than 33,000 Chinese troops and 700 other personnel to Nanking, seat of the Nationalist government, a total of 5,000 tons of personnel, supplies and equipment.

"Flying without adequate navigational aids over rugged terrain and through unpredictable weather conditions, the groups maintained a high flying safety record under operating conditions more severe than normally encountered in combat operations. An average number of 82 trips daily were completed".

Corry Baby Snatching Has Warren County Vet Involved

Corry has a baby snatching case and from reports there it involves a Warren county war veteran. The Corry Journal yesterday had the following on the matter:

Quite a stir was caused about town last evening when it was reported that an eighteen-month-old child had been taken by its soldier-father from a home on the south side, where it was being cared for by relatives of the mother, reported to have been estranged for some time from the soldier-husband. So far as could be learned this morning the babe had not been returned to the local home, but the case had not been reported to either the city police headquarters or to the state police station here.

The report indicated that the soldier had arrived here yesterday and gone to the home where the baby was cared for while the mother was employed in a nearby town. He asked permission to bring the child to the business section to buy clothing and other gifts for it. Later when he failed to return, the grandmother and a sister of the mother hired a car and made a trip to the Blue Eye district, where the parents of the soldier reside. At the farm they were told that he had not been there. They then drove to the homes of others of his relatives near Spring Creek, but failed to find any trace of the man or child and the babe was not back at the home when they returned here.

They said that they would report the matter immediately to the state and city police, but the officers had no word of the case this morning.

Whether some word was later received from the father or he had contacted the mother of the babe could not be learned today. It is believed, however, that some development took place which allayed the anxiety over the child's whereabouts or a report would have been made to the police.

National Farm Loan Groups Planning Reorganization Move

"The most far-reaching plan for the benefit of national farm loan associations in the twenty-eight year history of the Federal Land Bank System is now being presented to the directors of the 207 associations in the Second Farm Credit District," stated Robert J. Adsit, secretary-treasurer of the Meadville, Pa., group of associations.

H. S. Nelson and J. L. Ulrich representatives of The Federal Land Bank of Baltimore, presented the plan to the directors of the Meadville Group national farm loan associations at a meeting held in Meadville, Pa., November 8, 1945.

Mr. Adsit stated that the two-fold objective of the reorganization plan is to strengthen the financial condition of the national farm loan associations to mold a more efficient and economical organization to serve the long-term credit needs of farmers.

This program will enable all associations in Delaware, Maryland, Pennsylvania, Virginia and West Virginia to redeem at par value the shares of stock held by all former borrowers whose loans have been repaid—same to become effective in 1946.

The Federal Land Bank will make available to the associations the necessary funds with which to redeem all retired stock and will establish substantial reserves to help maintain the future solvency of the associations. Certain associations will consolidate in order to operate on a more efficient and economical basis.

This accomplishment is designed to fortify the permanent cooperative mortgtge credit system through which farmers may obtain long-term loans at low interest rates.

The following national farm loan association officers and directors attended this meeting: Harley Blood, Ross Moward, John Nierman and Walter Tucker from Crawford County; Bert Carr, W. C. Himrod, Russell Walker, Fenton Yaple from Erie County; E. H. Connor, Isaac Clark, Charles Vernam from Mercer County; E. D. Griffin, Charles Servey, Frank Sterrett, James Sharp from Venango County; Thomas Akeley, E. Nash Bailey, Oscar Benson, Ira Johnson, D. Paul Triskett from Warren County.

Jap Scalawags Cut Down Old Banyan Tree of Gen. Grant's

By HAL BOYLE

Nagasaki—(AP)—Today we have ad news for General Grant. Some apanese scalwags cut down his d banyan.

They not only cut it down—they led the site high with stones and ubble. So if any member of the rant fan league planned to come ut to Japan next year to pluck a memorial twig from the Grant banyan tree he may as well save himself the passage money. Twigs, leases, trunk and memorial tablets all vanished—the Grant banyan tree is gone, a casualty of the second World War.

The story goes back 66 years before the atomic bomb brought the full impact of American military culture to Nagasaki.

Our emissary to this Japanese port city in 1879 was Gen. Ulysses Simpson Grant, regarded by some as the Cival War's human forerunner of the atomic bomb.

Grant came, however, as an unofficial ambassador of peace. Only two years before, he had been released from further White House duty by a grateful citizenry who then thought two terms as president were enough.

The general and Mrs. Grant called at Nagasaki on a world tour. He was feted and hailed as "Grant-Shogun" and local Japanese dignitaries took him out to Suwa Park and asked him to plant a souvenir tree—in those days tree-planting seemed to be the equivalent of modern cornerstone-laying ceremonies.

The wiskered general, presumably puffing on his famous cigar, went to work with a will. He planted well. Long after the general and his tomb had become the chief tourist attraction of riverside drive, his banyan tree still flourished in Nagasaki, an object pointed out to all American visitors.

As late as 1941 the official guide to Japan put out by the Japanese government railways still listed the banyan tree as an attraction "of special interest to foreign visitors."

Late in that year there occurred an event at Pearl Harbor which made further publication of the guide unnecessary. The tourist industry slumped sharply.

Realizing that many Grant students back home must be worried over whether the renowned banyan tree had weathered the atomic bomb blast, we led the first American expedition to determine its fate. Two British correspondents who came along, as observers to protect other Allied interests, grumbled when they found we first had to climb 187 stone steps leading to the "bronze horse temple."

But we pushed on. At the top a middle-aged Japanese civilian agreed with many gold-toothed grins, to show us the banyan tree of "Grant-Shogun." Mopping perspiring faces we followed him around the winding path to a clearing along the trees where stood a great mound of stone and rubble.

"Grant-Shogun banyan tree there," he said, pointing to the mass of stone. But there was no banyan tree, no tree of any kind.

"Where?" we asked.

"Chop down. Chop-chop," he grinned. His smile faded, however, when we turned accusing looks on him.

"Not me!" He exclaimed in perfect broken English, and left hurriedly; galloping back down the 187 steps two at a time.

Questioning other Japanese, Glenn Babb, Associated Press Foreign Editor, learned that Grant's banyan memorial had been cut down with several other trees three years ago to make space in which to dump dirt and stone from air raid shelters dug in the surrounding hills. Neither park nor adjoining temple shrine were affected by the atomic bomb, which exploded several miles away.

No trace of Grant's banyan tree or stone memorial tablet, both victims of the American air campaign, is left.

It remains for other Grant scholars to establish what happened to the Grant pine tree which the general planted in Siba Park, Tokyo, in 1879—apparently one of his busiest tree-planting years. This column can take up only one Grant tree at a time.

Prize Essays Feature High School Event

Parents Night, held at the high school last evening in observance of American Education Week, was attended by a good sized crowd of parents and school patrons. Many took advantage of the opportunity of greeting teachers in their respective rooms and others came to discuss their children's work and problems.

At eight o'clock a fine program was presented in the auditorium with Anthony Vescio, chairman of the Student Council assembly committee, welcoming the parents and introducing the students on the program. These program numbers included reading of the prize winning B'Nai B'Rith essays by their authors and special numbers presented by the music department. The program was as follows:

Richard Harris, "Securing the Peace"; Joyce Dorrance, "Unemployment a Postwar Problem"; Nancy Maneval, vocal solo, "Serenade" by Romberg, with Jean Smith at the piano; Elizabeth Bathurst, "Strengthening Our Home Life"; Wayne Klenck, "Problems Inherited From the War"; Neil Swanson, cornet solos, "Beautiful Dreamer" by Stephen Foster and "I Dreamed I Dwelt in Marble Halls" from Offenbach's "Tales of Hoffman", with Harry Summers as accompanist; Eleanor Nelson, "Problems Inherited From the War".

The essays read by the young people, dealing with vital present day problems, will be published in later issues of the Times-Mirror.

Phil Cavarreta Named Most Valuable In National League

New York, Nov. 15—(AP)—Phil Cavarretta of the Chicago Cubs, who hit an unofficial .355 during the past season and then whaled the ball for a .423 mark in the World Series against Detroit, has been voted the National League's most valuable player for 1945 by an overwhelming margin.

The 29-year-old first baseman received 15 first place votes, seven seconds and one fifth out of 24 ballots cast by a committee representing the Baseball Writers' Association. He will be the second recipient of the Kenesaw Mountain Landis Memorial plaque, which first was awarded last year to Marty Marion, St. Louis Cardinals shortstop.

Cavarretta's total og 279 points out of a possible 336 placed him far in front of Tommy Holmes of the Boston Braves, who ran second with 175. The two battled for the National League batting championship most of the season, with Cavarretta winning out in the stretch.

Charley (Red) Barrett, St. Louis pitcher who won 23 games, placed third with 151 points, and Andy Pafko, Cubs centerfielder, was fourth with 131. George "Whitey" Kurowski of the Cards ran fifty with 90 points.

Although Holmes led the National League with 28 home runs and was the circuit's only batter to collect more than 200 hits, he was voted most valuable by only three writers as against the 15 who favored Cavarretta.

The Cubs' star made a great impression not only by his hustle and fine all-around play during the regular season, but also by his spectacular fielding and steady hitting in the World Series. Four writers chose Cavarretta's teammate, Pafko, for top honors, and one picked Hank Borowy, losing Cubs pitcher in the final game of the World Series. Marty Marion, the defending champ, did not receive a single vote for first.

Following are the point scores for the high 10, based on 14 points for first, nine for second, eight for third, and on down to one for tenth place. (First place votes are in parentheses):

Cavarretta, Cubs (15)	279
Hilmes, Braves (3)	175
Barrett, Cards (1)	151
Pafko, Cubs (4)	131
Kurowski, Cards 6	90
Borowy, Cubs (1)	84
Wyse, Cubs	72
Marion, Cards	69
Walker, Dodgers	66
Rosen, Dodgers	56

Jim Scalise High Scorer For 1945 Team

Jim Scalise, the Warren Dragon 165-pound fullback of the past season, led his teammates during the year in the touchdown tallying department, according to figures reeased today.

Scalise, who will perform with the Alegheny Valley All-Stars against the Shenango stars Friday night at Oil City, recorded a season aggregate of 9 touchdowns, 54 points, along with four extra points, to make a total of 58 points for the entire season.

Louie Bonace, the clever little quarterback, ranks second, and Dave Lopez, halfback, comes in on a close third. Bonace crossed the line four times for six-pointers, then added five extra points. Lopez also crossed for four touchdowns, but he had only a extra point.

Frank Shanshala and Don Duckett came in, respectively, fourth and fifth, in scoring. Shanshala had three scores to his credit, and Duckett boasted two.

Single touchdowns for the season were made by the following: Gerardi, Juliano, Hamilton, Reed, Bartholomew, Leonard, and Wollaston.

Army Recalls Court Upset Last Season

By TED MEIER

New York, Nov. 15—(AP)—Don't snicker too much at Penn's chances of turning in the football upset of the year by beating mighty Army at Franklin Field in Philadelphia Saturday.

On paper, everything points to the unbeaten, untied West Point Cadets making the Quakers their 17th straight victims, but it might be well to recall what happened to Army's famous 27-game basketball winning streak in Philly last February.

hen, as now, the Cadets had swept everything before them and were topheavy favorites. It looked like a runaway when Army rolled up an early 15-4 lead, but Penn pulled up to 29-25 at halftime, then went ahead in the second half for an astounding 61-52 triumph.

Basketball may be one thing, and football another, but if an underdog team catches fire, it doesn't matter whe sport is being played.

Earl Blaik, Army coach, recognizes the danger. He declared yesterday "This George Mungercoached Penn outfit is the toughest assignment Army has had to face in two years. In Bob Deuber and Don Schneider they have the necessary speed to cope with our backs." Blaik was also high on Penn's Bob Evans who threw four touchwon passes against Columbia.

Army's speedy Glen Davis and sturdy Doc Blanchard battered Penn to a 62-7 defeat last year, but Penn is much stronger this fall, as the record shows. The Quakers lost only to Navy, 14-7, and that setback came on a desperate Navy aerial in the last 25 seconds.

A sellout 73,000 crowd will sit in on the proceedings.

Navy's Bob Hoernschemeyer came up with a sore army yesterday and Coach Oscar Hagberg said the star forward passer would not play against Wisconsin at Baltimore Saturday.

In two other outstanding eastern games unbeaten and untied Holy Cross entertains once-beaten Temple while Columbia, seeking to regain a winning stride, battles Princeton at Princeton. Brown, upset winner over Yale last week, plays Harvard while the Eli tangle with the Coast Guard Academy.

Bob Fenimore, Reid Mosley Are In Lead

By HAROLD V. RATLIFF

Dallas, Nov. 15—(AP)—Oklahoma A. and M.'s Bob Fenimore and Georgia's Reid Moreley are threatening to upset precedent by repeating as total offense and pass-receiving champion respectively in the nation's college football but they're both finding title defense more difficult than the original winning.

The flying cowboy and the man from Gawgia are the only statistical champs of last year who returned to the 1945 grid wars.

Last year Fenimore left the field far behind as he set an all-time average gain of 219.8 yards per game. He has bettered that rate of rushing-passing advance this season, having traveled at a 233.2-yard clip through his first five games, yet he is just 42 yards ahead of Herman Wedemeyer of St. Mary's.

Moseley wound up with 32 catches in nine games last fall—six more than his nearest competitor. He, too, is going even better in the current campaign, after a slow start, with 21 snared in six contests, but has been unable to shake the challenge of Hubert Bechtol of Texas and Dennis O'Connor of St. Mary's, who are tied at 20 each, O'Connor in six games and Bechtol in seven.

Figures deleased today by Homer F. Cooke, Jr., director of the National Collegiate Athletic Bureau, covering all games through Nov. 3, show Fenimore and Wedemeyer far out in front in total offense, Fenimore with 1116 yards on 137 plays, and Wedemeyer with 1124 on 141 in six games. In third place is Allen Dekdebrun of Cornell with 960 yards on 199 plays.

Fenimore tops the field in rushing with 788 yards on 92 carries, with Glenn Davis of Army second with 691 yards on 54 runs in six games.

In forward passing it's Dekdebrun, who in six contests has hurled the ball 128 times and connected on 64 for 8721 yards. He leads Wedemeyer in completions by 21 and in yards by 65.

The top punter continues to be Howard Hawkins of Oklahoma who has booted 12 times for an average of 44.3, but the real leader is Harry Ghaul of Miami (Fla.) University, who has planted his toe in the ball 39 times and averaged 41.7.

"Stop the Amateurs" Cry Pros at Mobile, Alabama

Mobile, Ala., Nov. 15—(AP)—"Stop the amateurs" was the battle cry from the pro section today as approximately 140 golfers, including some of the nation's foremost shotmakers, started out on the first lap of Mobile's inaugural $10,000 Azalea open gilf tournament.

The "money boys' were reinforced for this fourth stop on the PGA winter circuit by additions of Jug McSpaden of Philadelphia and Ellsworth Vines of Denver.

The amateurs, on the other hand, picked up some substantial reinforcement of their own in the form of slender Freddy Haas of New Orleans, who stirred the golf world by breaking Byron Nelson's winning streak in Memphis several months ago.

Ed Rickenbacker Sells Speedway, Prefers Aviation

Indianapolis, Nov. 15—(AP)—Capt. Eddie Rickenbacker, a 70-mile-an-hour daredevil of the automobile tracks 30 years ago, will be only a visitor from the aviation business when the groundling speedsters compete next May 30 in their first 500-mile race since 1941.

"Rick" sold the two-and-a-half mile Indianapolis motor speedway yesterday to Anton Hulman, Jr., Terre Haute, Ind., sportsman and financier, for a price reported unofficially as about $750,000. Rickenbaker bought the plant in 1927 for $700,000.

The colorful captain, who went back to automobiles after shooting down 21 German airplanes and five balloons in the first world war, had to make a choice between his first love and his job as president of Eastern Air Lines. The newer mode of transportation won.

"The demands of running Eastern Airlanes make it impossible for me to give the speedway the attention which it damands and it is fortunate that I am able to dispose of my interest to Mr. Hulman," Rickenbaker said.

All girls interested in forming a league are asked to attend the meeting. Teams who had representatives in the loop last season are also asked to be present.

Local Soldier Reported Dead In Jap Prison

Claude Bliss, 1007 Conewango avenue, was advised by the War Department in a message received yesterday that his son, Cpl. Clinton A. Bliss, missing in action and officially presumed dead, actually died on May 31, 1942, of malaria while held in Camp O'Donnell, Japanese prisoner of war camp in the Philippines.

The Bliss family was first notified in a message on June 22, 1942, that the young infantryman had been in the Philippines when Bataan fell and it was not known if he had been taken prisoner. He was the second Warren county soldier to be reported missing in the fall of the Philippines.

On June 1, 1944, the Times-Mirror learned from the family that he had been officially presumed dead as of May 8, 1944, since two years had elapsed with no word concerning him. The latest message, from Major General Edward Witsell, acting for the adjutant general, states that official word of his death on May 31, 1942, has now been received.

Cpl. Bliss was serving with the regular army at Manila when this country declared war in 1941 and little is known of his actions after that date.

He attended Jefferson county schools before coming to Warren and was a student at Grove City College for part of one term. He was employed by the Fairweather interests at Kane at the time of his enlistment in the army. When news of him was first received, his family resided on Hatch Run, moving to Conewango avenue only recently.

His mother died in January, 1944, and besides his father he leaves these brothers and sisters: William, Berwyn, Baraba and Betty, at home; Duane Bliss, Mrs. Richard Seder and Mrs. Lawrence O'Lay, Warren; Mrs. Charles Fulton, Niagara Falls, N. Y.; Mrs. George McCool, Erie.

Pearl Harbor Probe Draws Great Crowd

committee—half from the senate half from the house—called its first witnesses just three years, eleven months and eight days after the disastrous Japanese blow.

"As far as the committee's investigation is concerned, you might say today is December 6, 1941," Senator Scott Lucas (D-Ill), one of the committeemen, told reporters.

"We will be laying the groundwork for what happened December 7."

An 8-by-10 foot relief map of porkchop-shaped Camu Island stood near the committee's table as the front of the marble-walled caucus room in the senate office building where daily sessions are scheduled from 10 until noon and from 2 to 4 p. m.

and the police opened fire. Gunfire was continuing.

Furniture presumably looted from the light industries building was being burned in the street, the British declared. Thousands of persons were said to be milling through the streets in defiance of rigid new curfew restrictions.

Many shops also reopened in violation of the curfew, the announcement said.

Underpass on Pennsylvania Avenue To Be Opposed

shipments from Erie to the east coast. Revenue is expected to drop. However it is pointed out that the railroad is constructing additional yard facilities at Erie, preparing to handle more grain there, etc. Traffic from the main line has also been moved through Warren to Pittsburgh and with the huge postwar business in the offing this may be used for years. Incidentally the Pennsylvania tore up one of its double tracks from Erie to Emporium after the first World War and sadly lacked needed facilities when World War II came.

The other plan of the railroad would enlarge the curves near the Smith-Horton plant and elevate the rails several feet so that larger engines to be placed on the division could negotiate them. The bridge then would be built on its present site but the south end would be swung up the river, one or two additional spans put in place, the river widened and deepened at this place. This would eliminate several bad curves on the South side of the bridge.

In the event that this plan is used Chestnut street at Fourth avenue would have to be closed to all use. At Pennsylvania avenue an underpass would have to be built to carry Route 6 under the railroad tracks. Such an underpass would have to start underground near the Struthers-Wells plant and would have the eastern end near Beech street, if it is not found necessary to close Beech street at Pennsylvania avenue. This plan is expected to cost about $1,500,000, a considerable saving over the proposed bridge crossing at FN Tower.

The plans have been widely discussed by various organizations about the city and the general opinion as reflected in groups about the city is that the elevating of the rail line and the underpass will be opposed by Warren people generally.

Eisenhower Favors Peace Time Training

manpower and technological advancement are "our greatest assurance of keeping the peace for which we fought."

Upon expiration of selective service, the general said, the nation should be prepared to start training young men who have had no military experience.

Although veterans of this war constitute a trained reserve, he said, "we must keep it constantly and currently reinforced by younger increments trained in all the most advanced techniques which research and development in the technology of warfare" are bringing forth.

"We must train them to avert World War III, not refight World War II," Eisenhower said.

of the United States troop carrier squadron in flying two armies north from Hankow and Shanghai. In addition, the U. S. 7th Fleet provided transportation to more Nationalist troops for landings in North China.

There is no question but that the great delay in disarming Japanese troops in Peiping has provided the Nationalist forces with additional power in opposing the Communists.

There has been little direct or reliable information from inside Manchuria.

Smith & Horton Co. Planning Erection of Bottling Plant

Emmons Jones, secretary and manager of the Smith-Horton Wholesale Company, announced today one of the most important expansion plans that the company has made in years. The company has just signed contracts for the bottling rights in Warren for Ma's Old Fashioned Root Beer, Pepsi-cola and One-Mor. These fine beverages will be bottled and dispensed in this territory by the local company.

Mr. Jones further announced that plans are being prepared for the erection next spring of a complete bottling plant on property at Fourth avenue and Chestnut street. This will be one of the finest plants of the kind in this section and in addition to the three beverages announced above the firm will also manufacture and turn out a complete line of competitive beverages such as ginger ale, sodas of various kinds under the firm name of Golden Club.

The new plant will be complete and equipped with the most modern machinery for manufacturing and bottling and it will have a capacity of one million cases of the beverage each year.

This will make the second big building project announced by the company in a short time, as on the east side of Chestnut street they plan to erect a large building as an adjunct of their beer distribution business. The company is now handling Simon Pure Beer and Rolling Rock Beer and Old Abbey and other ales.

It is interesting to note relative to the expansion program of the company that the Glendora Coffee branch is now employing more men than ever before in its history and the sales are mounting rapidly.

PROPOSE PLAN TO SAVE WORLD FROM ATOMIC DESTRUCTION

EISENHOWER FAVORS PEACE TIME TRAINING

General Tells House Committee Russia Has No Slight Thing to Gain By War With U. S.

FAVORS PREPAREDNESS

Washington, Nov. 15—(AP)—Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower told congress today "Russia has no slightest thing to gain by war with the United States" and wants to be a friend.

He added that "there will never be a war between Great Britain and the United States."

Testifying in support of President Truman's request for universal military training, Eisenhower told the house military committee:

"I believe Russia's policy is friendship with the United States. There is in Russia a desperate and continuing concern for the lot of the common man and they want to be friends with the United States."

The general said he knew that some Russians are concerned over criticism of the Soviets by the United States press. But he added "it is difficult" for Russians to understand a free press as it operates in the United States.

His references to the possibility of war with Great Britain or Russia were made in response to questions by comittee members, principally Rep. Parnell Thomas (R-NJ) who asked:

"Who do we have as potential aggressors?"

TRAINING PLAN WOULD NOT AVERT CONFLICTS

Washington, Nov. 15—(AP)—Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower said today if he thought another war inevitable, he wouldn't be her.

"I would haove jumped right out of my plane over the Atlantic," he told the house military committee in answer to a question.

He said he thinks postwar universal military training is essential, but that doesn't mean war can't be avoided.

If it did, he said, civilization might as well give up.

Eisenhower would not specify any nation because he said he could not foretell international developments adding that years ago none thought we would be at war with Germany or Japan.

Right now, he said, "there is no one nation in the world that can challenge a prepared America."

"The greatest single motivating force for world peace today is the organized military potential of the United States," Eisenhower declared.

In testimony prepared for an appearance before the committee, Eisenhower cautioned that the development of war techniques would give the United States no time to prepare if it were attacked again.

Eisenhower contended trained

Joint Communique Issued By Three Great Powers Suggests Creation of a Commission

By the Associated Press

The United States, Britain and Canada today agreed to:

1. Withhold the know-how on the manufacture of the atomic bomb until "effective, reciprocal, and enforceable safeguards acceptable to all nations" are devised.

2. Exchange with any nation scientists and "fundamental scientific information" for peaceful ends on a reciprocal basis.

3. Creation of a commission under the United Nations organization to work speedily for control of atomic energy for peaceful purposes only, for elimination of atomic weapons of all kinds, and for effective safeguards to protect complying nations against the "hazards of violations and evasions" of any outlawing agreement.

4. A declaration that the only complete protection for civilization against the destructive use of scientific knowledge "lies in the prevention of war."

Washington, Nov. 15—(AP)—Creation of a United Nations commission to control the threat of atomic destruction in the world was proposed today by the United States, Great Britain and Canada as the best way to tackle the atomic energy problem.

President Truman and Prime Ministers Attlee and MacKenzie King made this known in a joint communique on their three-power talks.

At the same time, they declared that the three nations, which alone possess the know-how of atomic bomb manufacture, would not share that knowledge until "it is possible to devise effective, reciprocal and enforceable safeguards acceptable to all nations."

The commission which the three leaders proposed at the conclusion of their six-day conference on atomic problems would be charged with the duty to make specific proposals on these four points:

"1. For extending between all nations the exchange of basic scientific information (on all subjects) for peaceful ends.

"2. For control of atomic energy to the extent necessary to ensure its use only for peaceful purposes.

"3. For the elimination from national armaments of atomic weapons and of all other major weapons adaptable to mass production.

"4. For effective safeguards by way of inspection and other means to protect complying states against the hazards of violations and invasions."

The three leaders noted that actually the scientific information "has already been made available to the world," and they added that "it is our intention that all further information of this character that may become available from time to time shall be similarly treated."

Obviously with Soviet Russia primarily in mind, they then said that "we trust that other nations will adopt the same policy, thereby creating an atmosphere of reciprocal confidence in which political agreement and cooperation will flourish."

But as for the detailed knowledge of practical application of atomic energy, the three asserted that should be kept secret until the world is better organized, through the United Nations, to receive it with strong assurances that it would not be used for destructive purposes.

The statement was issued by President Truman, Attlee and MacKenzie King at a White House press conference held about 11:10 a. m. The three completed their deliberations last midnight.

Shortly before scores of newsmen crowded into the president's office, several senators—including Chairman McMahon (D-Conn), of the senate's atomic committee—filed in to witness the signing of the joint statement.

Present also were Secretary of State Byrnes, Admiral William D. Leahy, the president's chief of staff, and other officials.

As silence fell, the president arose behind his desk and told the newsmen that he would read a document signed by the prime ministers and himself.

Any questions, he said, would have to come later when reporters were familiar with the statement. He then read rapidly the entire text.

When he finished he held the text up for those in the room to see the signatures, then informed reporters that was all he had to say.

British Issue Drastic Order In Palestine

Jerusalem, Nov. 15—(AP)—J. V. W. Shaw, British acting high commissioner for Palestine, issued a "punishment by death" warning today to rioters in the all Jewish city of Tel Aviv, where street demonstrations broke out for the second day.

At least one person was killed and 50 were reported injured today as thousands of persons milled in the streets defying a curfew order imposed after last night's outbreaks which resulted in the death of two Jews and the injury of 27 persons.

Unruly crowds again attacked government property, stoned barricades and stormed against several British buildings.

The general disobedience of the curfew order appeared to be a part of the policy of resistance ordered by the secret Jewish resistance movement against continuance of the British policy or restricted Jewish immigration into Palestine. But most Jewish citizens did not appear to approve direct attacks against British soldiers and activities by the torch gangs.

The first casualties developed last night when troops of the British Sixth Parachute (Red Devils) Division fired to break up crowds.

The troops were withdrawn tempararily, but were rushed back into the city today when crowds stoned police trucks this morning

Armament Makers' Trial Is Postponed

By DANIEL DE LUCE

Nuernberg, Nov. 15—(AP)—The international military tribunal granted today a defense otion for a postponement of the war crimes trial of "dying" Gustav Krupp von Bahlen und Halbach until "his physical and mental condition permits it."

The court of the United States, Russia, Great Britain and France ordered charges in the Krupp indictment retained in the docket on the possibility that the 75-year-old armaments maker might recover sufficiently to come to court.

The tribunal quoted findings of its intre-Allied medical commission that Krupp was irremediably suffering from "senile softening of the brain."

The tribunal's interest in speeding the legal pace also seemed to have been demonstrated in a remark by Britain's Lord Justice Geoffrey Lawrence, who said the reading of the 35,000-word indictment in court could be dispensed with if the defense was agreable. He said its contents "already are well known."

PEARL HARBOR PROBE DRAWS GREAT CROWD

Curiosity - Drawn Spectators Press for Standing Room As Hearing Opens

SCENE BEING FILMED

BULLETIN

Washington, Nov. 15—(AP)—Japanese envoys in Washington reported to Tokyo the day before Pearl Harbor that they had been working with "influential" individuals behind their "frontal negotiations" with President Roosevelt and Secretary of State Hull. This was disclosed today in the release by the congressional committee investigating the Pearl Harbor disaster of intercepted diploatic messages sent by the Japanese between July 1, and Dec. 8, 1941.

Washington, Nov. 15—(AP)—Curiosity - drawn spectators filled seats and pressed for standing room today as a joint senate-house committee opened public hearings on the Pearl Harbor disaster.

Available seats were filled long before the 10 a. m. starting hour in the big, ornate caucus room of the senate office building which has a capacity of about 500.

Kleig lights glared over the room as news reel men filmed the scene.

Rear Admiral Husband E. Kimmel, the naval commander at Pearl Harbor when the Japanese attacked, arrived early to claim a front row seat. At a table near the witness chair, Maj. Gen. Walter C. Short, the Hawaiian army commander of 1941, found a vantage point.

It was easily the year's biggest congressional show.

William D. Mitchell, committee counsel, opened the hearings by placing in the record a 253-page printed copy of intercepted Japanese diplomatic messages covering the period between July 1 and December 8, 1941.

He thus made the first official disclosure that American armed forces had broken the Japanese diplomatic code and were reading Japanese messages to Washington and other capitals long before fighting began.

As Chairman Barkley (D-Ky) called the inquiry committee into session, Senators Ferguson (D-Mich) and Brewster (R-Me) protested that they had not had time to read all of the documents before the investigators.

Ferguson and Brewster told their colleagues that it had been "a physical impossibility" for them to read what Ferguson said were "more than 1,000 exhibits" placed in their hands in the last two days.

Barkley replied that all committee members were in the same fix; adding that they probably can catch up on their reading as the hearings go along.

Shortly after the call to order, an electric fuse blew out and plunged the jam-packed room into gloom.

Despite the absence of light and the Republican protests, Barkley ruled that the hearing would go on.

Will Review Supervision Of Germany

By JOHN M. HIGHTOWER
AP Systematic News Editor

Washington, Nov. 15—(AP)—The United States and France have begun talks here on the most critical issue now blocking effective Allied administration of Germany: France's proposal for non-German control of the Ruhr and Rhineland.

This became known today amid strong indications that President Truman and Secretary of State Byrnes are aabout ready to undertake a sweeping review of American administration in Germany.

Their objective will be to try to work out some means of preventing explosive conditions in the Reich from getting worse as winter sets in.

Mr. Truman scheduled a conference today with Byron Price, a special presidential emissary who is just back from a study of the broad question of relations between the battered German people and the American occupation forces.

Similarly the return of Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower has afforded the war and state departments, as well as the White House, an opportunity for a further check on critical German conditions already outlined during the recent conference here of Lt. Gen. Clay, Eisenhower's deputy, and Ambassador Robert Murphy, his chief political advisor.

Communist Drive On Yangtze Looms

By SPENCER MOOSA

Chungking, Nov. 15—(AP)—Chinese Communists have attacked and entered the important highway center of Tsaoyang, 145 miles northwest of Hankow, an official dispatch stated today. It said that street fighting was under way in the town, once won and lost by the Reds in earlier fights.

Observers here believed the attack signalled a Communist drive aimed at cutting the Yangtze river route west of Hankow and thereby preventing downriver movement of government troops.

Another official Chinese report said that Communist attacks have been rendering repairs to the southern section of the Tientsin-Pukow (Tientsin-Nanking) railroad extremely difficult, and that the work might have to be suspended.

Underpass On Pennsylvania Avenue In Plans For P. R. R. Improvements To Be Opposed

Tuesday, November 20, at Harrisburg, a meeting will be held with the Department of Forests and Waters relative to the proposed new bridge of the Pennsylvania Railroad across the Allegheny river at or near Warren. Burgess Ray Steber and City Solicitor Sidney Blackman will attend from this city and protest any construction that would call for an underpass on the Pennsylvania avenue crossing at the railroad station.

The Pennsylvania Railroad, in the erection of the bridge to replace the present structure, which is badly worn and over which trains are now moved at slow speed, has two plans.

One of these calls for the construction of a new bridge below FN Tower, the crossings west of the city where Route 6 passes at grade over tracks of the New York Central and the Pennsylvania railroads. This bridge would carry the railroad tracks through the airport and across to the south side of the river. This would eliminate several grade crossings and particularly the ones at FN Tower and at Pennsylvania avenue near the present station. This would also call for placing the Pennsylvania passenger station on the south side. The plan as proposed would cost the railroad company about $3,000,000.

Due to conditions faced by the railroad freight traffic, it is claimed, will show a falling off due to the slowing down of grain and ore

SITUATION IN NORTH CHINA IS DELICATE

Communists and Nationalist Forces Jockey For Position and Clash For Territory

MARINES ARE IMPATIENT

By SPENCER DAVIS

Peiping, Nov. 15—(AP)—Three months after Japan's capitulation, the situation in North China and Manchuria is described as "delicate."

Chinese Communist and Nationalist forces jockey for position and occasionally clash for control of territory which belongs no longer to a foreign enemy.

The Japanese mait for their armies to be disarmed and sent home but the process still is far from complete.

American marines wait impatiently for orders to return home and frequently wonder what brought them to China in the first place.

Some 100,000 Koreans in North China are waiting repatriation.

Small numbers of German Nationals known that eventually they will be sent to the Reich. They await the day with mixed emotions.

Over all, hangs the threat of full scale civil war. Thus far the Chinese civil strife has been more a battle of wits and maneuver, more a paper offensive of rumors and reports than actual pitched engagements.

But all elements of a long and bloody campaign are here. The Communists, who have a strong hold on six provinces, feel they must fight to survive. Central government forces feel they must exterminate all obstacles in the path of a unified China. How far these two forces will go in settling their differences by arms depends upon negotiators who will meet in Chungking Nov. 20

Each day in the vernacular press there are long reports of trouble throughout the provinces of Shantung, Hopeh, Shansi, Honan, Suiyuan and Chahar. It is evident that the Communists seized the initiative and had their armies in motion before the Nationalist troops were fully deployed to the north.

Destruction of vital links in every major railroad from central to North China by Comunist troops and villagers in the areas they freed from the Japanese undoubtedly worked to the greatest disadvantage of troops of Generalissimo Chiang Kai-Shek. Nationalist troops on the other hand have the moral value of 60,000 American marines present in the Peiping Tientsin and Tsingtao areas of North China and the assistance

Seek To Prevent Fleeing of Vets

Harrisburg, Nov. 15—(AP)—Under orders from Governor Martin state police were working today with local authorities to prevent "fleecing" of newly discharged veterans who come from the nearby Indiantown Gap Military Reservation.

Col. C. M. Wilhelm, state police commissionar, said detectives have been assigned both to Harrisburg and Lebanon to aid in any problems that might arise concerning the servicemen.

At the same time Liquor Control Board agents were visiting all taprooms and liquor dispensing spots in the area to emphasize to licensees their responsibility for observing the liquor laws and regulations.

The two state agencies went into action after Governor Martin ordered a "clean-up" of the area following complaints that servicemen were losing thousands of dollars while passing through the city enroute to their homes.

New Threats Of Strikes On Labor Front

By the Associated Press

New strike threats affecting communications and shipping appeared along the nation's labor front today. Work stoppages throughout the country kept idle some 275,000 men and women.

A strike of more than 7,000 long distance telephone operators in Illinois, disrupting service in Chicago and about 100 other communities in Illinois and Indiana, was indicated after a breakdown in wage negotiations.

In San Francisco William Burke of the CIO American Communications Association said the Pacific Telephone & Telegraph Co. had refused to negotiate or arbitrate on the union's demand for a 20 per cent wage increase for long distance telephone maintenance workers.

Also in San Francisco, the AFL Steamfitters Local urged that strike action be taken by Nov. 25 by all AFL Shipyard Workers on the Pacific coast.

In Seattle, the Alaska Steamship Company's entire passenger fleet was tied up in a union dispute involving issues of overtime and the use of passenger dining rooms for meetings at sea.

The closing of assembly lines in the Buick and Fisher body plants in Flint, Mich., because of a parts shortage from an Ohio feeder plant, forced 5,000 workers from their jobs.

ARLINE RUTH GOODARD KILLED INSTANTLY IN DISCHARGE OF OWN GUN WHILE IN WOODS

Fatality Occurs In Vicinity of Brown Hill While Unfortunate Young Lady Is Seeking Game In Company With Father, Brother and Sister

FOURTH VIOLENT DEATH IN FAMILY IN FEW YEARS

Arline Ruth Goodard, 16, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Bert Goodard, Brown Hill, Sugar Grove township was almost instantly killed Wednesday afternoon on the farm adjoining that of her parents when a Stevens, bolt action, gun was discharged while she was hunting. The girl with her sister, Mrs. Ralph Dalrymple, 117 Dartmouth street, was engaged in hunting squirrels and the safety mechanism on her gun stuck. Leaning over to adjust it she placed the butt of the gun on the ground with the muzzle resting against her breast. The gun discharged and the girl fell mortally wounded. The body was removed to the Schoonover Funeral Home at Sugar Grove. Coroner Ed C. Lowrey, Siteriff L. C. Linder and State Patrolman J. R. Krupey opened an investigation.

Miss Goodard, a second year student at the Sugar Grove High School yesterday went with her father, a brother Merle and her sister, Mrs. Dalrymple, on a hunting trip in the vicinity of Sugar Grove. They hunted several hours and the men secured some squirrels. Returning to the Goodard home the girls after lunch determined to go out again on the Goodard and Ted Brooks farm to get some game as up until that time they had shot nothing.

Mrs. Dalrymple in describing the accident to the officials said "Arline, "Tiny" as we called her proposed we go get some squirrel as Dad and Merle had some. We took our guns and went up the hill. The dog started a rabbit and it ran some distance and holed up. We then started out again and the dog started another rabbit. As it ran we looked to see which way it was going to circle. I saw Tiny lean over adjusting the safety on her gun. I yelled at her 'Don't do that, Tiny, and then I looked away to see which way the rabbit was going. Suddenly I heard the gun go 'wham' and just as I looked I saw Tiny throw up her arms and fall. I ran to her and felt for her pulse but there was none. So I started for the house yelling for help and I fainted. When I came to Dad was beside Tiny. She was dead".

Arline Ruth Goodard was born May 18, 1929 at the family home on Brown Hill and has passed her life there. She was an ardent follower of out of door sports and enjoyed hunting to the utmost being an exceptionally good shot. She attended the Sugar Grove High School and was an apt student holding a high place in her classes. Dark haired and good looking she was popular with a wide circle of friends.

She is survived by her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Bert Goodard and the following brothers and sisters: Merle Goodard, at home; Evelyn Peterson, Yankee Bush; Ethel Bush, Waterford, RD 4; Mrs. Ralph Dalrymple, Warren; Margaret Hepler, 709 Liberty street, Corry; Ellen Goodard, Sugar Grove; Louise Goodard, Warren and Franklin, at home.

Tragedy has followed the family for a number of years. The death of Arline marks the fourth member to meet a violent end. One son Richard lost his life with the U. S. Forces, in the Philippines four months ago; another son Howard, suffered a gunshot wound while hunting 12 years ago in the same field in which his sister died yesterday. Howard was shot in one leg and died in the Warren General Hospital. Another son, Clifford lost his life in an auto-

Two Seriously Hurt In Blast At Clarendon

Louis Campbell, 39, and Herman Fox, 55, of Clarendon are in the Warren General Hospital in a critical condition as the result of burns sustained this morning about 9:40 o'clock when the gas tank on a truck exploded throwing gasoline over them. The men employed by the M. N. Landay Wrecking Company, of Pittsburgh were endeavoring to start an old White truck at the plant of the Bradford-Fenn Refining Company when the explosion took place. They were removed at once to the Warren General Hospital and attaches say their condition is "most serious".

The Landay Company had an old White truck, with the gas tank on the side, built into a wrecking truck. On it was mounted a winch with a steel cable which was used in lifting heavy pieces of wreckage as the refinery is being torn down. In some manner the feed line on the truck leading from the tank to the engine became clogged and the two men were working in an endeavor to open it. Both were standing on the side of the truck where the tank was located and when the explosion took place, they were knocwed down by the blast and blazing gasoline was hurled over them.

The sound of the explosion drew fellow workmen to their side and first aid was promptly given. Mrs. Fox, wife of one of the injured men heard the explosion and rushed from her home with blankets to give first aid to the injured, not knowing at the time that her husband was involved in the accident.

The Lutz and Peterson ambulances from Warren were summoned and the men speeded to the hospital. Treatment was given them and restoratives applied but their burns cover such an area of their bodies that their condition is extremely serious.

Inner Circle Posts In Japan May Go

By RUSSELL BRINES

Tokyo, Thursday, Nov. 15—(AP)—Abolition of the key position, lord keeper of the privy seal, but retention of the remainder of the cumbersome inner circle around the emperor was reported today by the newspaper Asahi as the current plan for "democratization" of the throne.

The newspaper said the plan resulted from conferences of representatives of the cabinet, the privy seal, the imperial household ministry, the privy council and senior statesmen seeking a method of keeping pace with prospective revision of the constitution.

The plan will be effected "at an appropriate opportunity," Asahi reported. Its only concession to prospective party government is inclusion of the presidents of both houses of the diet on a board to participate in the selection of new premiers.

Three Jeeps To Feature Big Victory Bond Parade Nov. 24

Three jeeps to be sent to Warren for the Victory Bond parade on Saturday, Nov. 24, by the State Bond Committee, will probably prove to be the most interesting entries in the parade. The Japanese jeep was captured in Okinawa and, while it does not run under its own power, it will be displayed throughout the line of march on a trailer.

The other two jeeps are combat machines, one of which is equipped with a loud speaker. One of these saw action in Okinawa and the other one was one of the first to cross the Rhine into Germany. These two machines do run and will be manned by returned veterans under command of Sergeant Kelly.

The three machines will be parked in various places about town after the parade has disbanded so that all interested people can examine them at close range. One of them will be sent to the East Side business section with a band as soon as possible after the parade ends. The machines will remain in Warren until about six o'clock Saturday, Nov. 24.

Word was received by the Retail Merchants Committee of the Chamber of Commerce today, which is sponsoring the Victory Loan and Christmas Holiday Parade that the Ridgway High school band of fifty pieces has accepted an invitation to be in Warren and participate in the parade.

Marx Brothers Through With Movies By a Two to One Vote

By BOB THOMAS

Hollywood, Nov. 15—(AP)—The Marx Brothers are through with the movies, by a two to one vote.

The brothers are working on "Adventures in Casablanca" in partnership with David Loew and they think this one is their swan song. Said Harpo, who paradoxically is the most vocal of the brethren: "It's just too much work. We started on the story of this picture last January and it will be a year by the time of the final preview."

Groucho was even more vehement. "Why should a man in his declining years spend all day cooped up in a cracker box?" he asked, referring to his dressing room. "Then somebody tells him to be funny in front of the camera for three minutes. Nuts to that business. The only reason I'm making this picture is because in five years I had forgotten how miserable it could be."

I found Chico much more conciliatory. "Sure I like making pictures," he said. "I like everything that has to do with show business. But if Harpo and Groucho don't want to work, what can I do?"

One reason why the brothers may never do another picture is that it is too hard to get them together. After "Casablanca," Harpo may make a picture with Ben Hecht and then tour Europe. Chico plans to play in South America and England. And Groucho thinks he's stick to radio work and writing.

Ingrid Bergman's daughter, seven-year-old Pia, saw the "Spellbound" ad in which her mother is cuddled close to an open razor. She asked Ingrid pleadingly if she could see the picture. Mother said no.

"As yet, I haven't let her see any of my pictures," she said, "because I don't think any of them have been suitable for her to see. The first picture of mine I will let her see is 'The Bells of St. Mary's' and I'm anxious to see what she'll think of me."

It's doubtful if Nia will see her mother's present picture, "Notorious." In it she appears drunk, gets into browls and marries a German agent.

Sgt. Broderick Crawford gets out of the army at Dayton, Ohio, this Friday and will return to a Universal contract. . . . Walter Huston turned down the Charles Winninger role in the "Show Boat" revival because he would rather do a new play. It will be "Apple of His Eye" for Jed Harris. . . . Carole Landis sent a garter to Hollywood correspondents, inviting them to put it on at the "Scandal in Paris" set. Ten of the old wolves showed up in one afternoon. And a young one . . . MANY TRAFFIC ACCIDENTS

Traffic accidents cost the lives of 33 persons in Pennsylvania in the first nine months of 1945, the Bureau of Highway Safety reported today. The total was 21 more than in the corresponding period last year. A month-by-month increase in deaths began in June, the bureau noted. The rise amounted to 2.6 per cent in built-up areas and 2.2 per cent in rural districts.

DEATH RATE DOWN

The modern treatment of pneumonia has reduced the death rate from the decease by more than two thirds in the past eight years, report the statisticians of the Metropolitan Life Insurance Company. Terming this reduction in mortality "one of the phenomenal achievements of modern medicine" the statisticians note that in the decade of the 1920's death rates from this disease hovered around an average of 75 per 100,000 among the company's industrial policyholders; in the first nine months of the current year the death rate was down to the record low figure of 20 per 100,000.

SIC SEMPER TYRANNIS

One newspaper obituary of Field Marshal August von Mackensen spoke of him as "the hawk-faced little soldier." Probably few of us who remember him, by way of photographs, from the first World War ever thought of him as being small. He had a tall, imposing look.

Hawk-eyed he was. That face, with its fierce mustache and wild, burning eyes, was almost as devoid of flesh and blood as the grinning death's head that adorned the tall fur shako of his hussar's uniform. He was quite a figure—the perfect symbol of Prussian militarism.

Yet Mackensen was small. Or at least he lost as much stature through the years as the militarism which he symbolized.

Mackensen, nearly 96 when he died, had entered the German army when he was 20. Bismarck's iron fist ruled the reich in those days, and young Mackensen served Bismarck well in the Franco-Prussian war. He He served Wilhelm II even better in 1914-18, winning a series of spectacular victories on the Eastern Front.

He also served Hitler, but only as a show horse. His aging bones wouldn't permit anything more active. They trotted him out to make speeches and to pose, in his death's head hat and gold-braided uniform, as the embodiment of a lost glory.

But he lived too long. And when the Allied troops captured him the aged hero of Galicia, the man who had seen and participated in the rise and fall of the German Empire, was feebly tottering about his farm and cursing the Russian soldiers for making off with his chickens.

He still wore his hussar's uniform and his fur shako. But both were looking considerably shabby and moth-eaten.

WHO'LL DO K. P.?

War Secretary Patterson put forth a persuasive plea for universal military training the other day when he disclosed the strange plight of our peacetime Army. It seems that, with the way things are shaping up at present, it's going to be an Army of sergeants and officers. The privates just aren't re-enlisting.

It seems doubtful that even in the age of the atomic bomb, mechanization and intense specialization, an army can be run without the humble doughfoot. For one thing, who's going to peel the spuds and police the camp and do all the other jobs that a noncom wouldn't lay hand to? It's a dilemma, even in peacetime.

Obviously, Mr. Wallace's era of the common man hasn't yet arrived in military circles. And obviously something will have to be done about it.

All the folks out in the rural sections of Pennsylvania who have been preening themselves over the prospect of securing a share of the road improvements to be provided with Pennsylvania's post-war spending have taken a severe jar. With $57,000,000 to be spent in Pittsburgh and an equally large sum to be allocated to Philadelphia it looks like the rest of the state just didn't have enough votes.

The sympathy of the entire county is extended the family, friends and school associates of Arlene Ruth Goddard, Sugar Grove High student, who was instantly killed while hunting in the vicinity of Brown Hill with her father, brother and sister, Wednesday afternoon. The young woman leaves a host of friends who are bowed in grief over her untimely death.

The Retail Merchants' Bureau of the Chamber of Commerce is hard at work completing plans to present a bang-up Victory Loan and Christmas Shopping parade in Warren, Saturday, November 24th. From our knowledge of the plans we can assure everyone a parade that will be quite in keeping with the very successful one last staged before Pearl Harbor.

There are more villians in the movies these days. They stick gum under the seats.

Everybody reads the Times-Mirror

Washington Daybook

By JACK STINNETT

WASHINGTON — The mushrooming of new veterans' organizations or the expansion of old ones to capture members among the veterans of World War II is hardly news these days.

But one new veterans' group can stand an introduction because it is certain to be in the thick of several fights that will determine the future defense policies of the United States. It is the newly organized Reserve Officers of the Naval Services.

RONS, as its organizers refer to it, already has established headquarters here in the morning shadows of the White House at 1726 Pennsylvania Avenue.

INTERIM president is Capt. George S. Piper. Until he returned recently to civilian life, he was aide to former Under Secretary of the Navy Ralph Bard. One of the four vice presidents is Lt. Comdr. Douglas Fairbanks, Jr. Secretary is Lt. Comdr. Harry Byrd, Jr., son of the Virginia senator; and among executive committee and advisory council members, are such names as Commodore James K. Vardaman, naval aid to President Truman; Capt. Gene Markey, Hollywood writer; Comdr. Eugene Carusi and Col. James J. Keating of the Marine Corps.

Organizational work in all states is now under way, according to Executive Director Lt. Comdr. B. J. Darneille. RONS' goal is to become spokesmen for the 300,000 reserve officers of the Navy, Coast Guard and Marines.

RONS officials here emphasize that the new group is entirely independent of the Navy Department, but Capt. Piper "points with pride" to a best wishes letter from Secretary of the Navy Forrestal, himself a Naval Reserve officer from World War I.

THE organizers and interim officials point out that their policies will be determined later by the membership itself, but they list some interesting basic objectives.

First, to stimulate through a politically independent national organization a continuing interest in the naval services and provide a medium through which their recommendations may be made known.

Second, to consider and take positive action eventually on (1) the proposed merger of the armed services; (2) universal military service; (3) the organization and administration of a permanent reserve personnel; and (4) the encouragement of scientific research and development.

THIS is interesting, because heretofore the Navy has done most of its public speaking through active or retired regular Navy officials or through established veterans groups which are of course numerically overwhelmingly Army organizations.

There appears to be a pretty good chance that RONS can build itself into something more than just "another Washington lobby."

From where I sit ... by Joe Marsh

Only one side to our railroad tracks

Folks who are better off in our town live on the west side of the railroad tracks. We've got a lake there, and the local park, and some real nice land.

There used to be a phrase "from the wrong side of the tracks." It meant what you think . . . but you don't hear it any more. Not since Charlie Jenkins came home with the Purple Heart, and Willie Wells got the Silver Star. There isn't any "wrong side" of the railroad tracks now!

And that change is going on all over America . . . where our heroes have come from obscure homes . . . and greatness has overshadowed wealth and shallow social definitions.

From where I sit, it all comes down to tolerance . . . tolerance for what a man is and does . . . tolerance for his freedom and opinions, whether he's rich or poor, likes beer or cider, Shakespeare or the comic section. It's a great thing—tolerance!

Danny Kaye Tells Adventures In Blazing Japanese Cirsuit

By BOB THOMAS

Hollywood, (AP)—Added to his many other accomplishments, Danny Kaye is now "the first actor into Tokyo."

I caught Danny as he came from the plane that brought him back from a 32,000-mile entertainment tour across the Pacific. His blonde hair was shaggy, his USO uniform was rumpled and he was rattling on about "the greatest experience of my life."

In their six-weeks tour Danny and Leo Durocher blazed a new theatrical circuit. They were the first entertainers to play before American troops in Japan and Korea. Actually it was a return engagement for Danny. He appeared in Tokyo in 1934. He found the theatre he played in had been turned into a factory.

One of the biggest kicks Danny got out of the trip was a half-hour conversation with Gen. Douglas MacArthur. He said the general sees movies every night and sounded rather hep about show business. The comic's other great experience was playing a show near Hiroshima. He said the atomic destruction was unbelievable.

Part of Danny's act was to answer questions about Hollywood. He said there always was a question about Frank Sinatra, followed by loud laughter.

"Then I told them about Frankie, that he had gotten some bad publicity at first, but that he has a lot of lasting talent and is sincere and intelligent. I told them I was proud to have him as a friend."

The inevitable result, Danny said, was a burst of loud cheering.

Take a lesson in figures from Dana Andrews. Not the kind you're thinking of—Dana is happily married. I'm talking about Moola.

Dana is guaranteed to earn at least $1,500,000 in the next seven years, as long as he can raise an eyebrow before the camera. That's just a minimum—he can also make $50,000 a year from radio and lots more from the two outside pictures he is allowed.

Dana recently completed a deal with his two bosses, Samuel Goldwyn and 20th Century-Fox and it's the kind that actors lose sleep over. It's absolutely ironclad. Thrifty Dana supports his family on $1,000 a month, a small amount for a Hollywood celebrity, and he plans to save $25,000 a year out of his salary. That should insure a comfortable old age.

As a topper, Dana got $90,000 in retroactive pay from Samuel Goldwyn, which is no mean feat. Dana gets to keep $15,000 of it, so he shouldn't have to worry about cigarette money for a while.

Roz Russell is glowing because (1) she finally started "Sister Kenny"; (2) her husband, Col. Fred Brisson, was awarded the Legion of Merit by General Arnold; (3) Lt. George Russell returned safely from the wars, the third of her brothers to do so . . . Many musicians are getting out of uniform and trying to round up bands. Guitarist Alvina Rey and Skeets Herfort, Ex-Tommy Dorsey, are the latest . . . . Master Sgt. Ezra Stone, on the air again as Henry Aldrich, will also direct the Michael Todd show, "January Thaw." . . . .

Alice Faye won't do a picture until after the holidays and then it will probably be "Mother Wore Tights." On her they should look good.

Carbon monoxide and hydrogen, when mixed in the proportion of one of the former to two of the latterfi become the so-called synthetic gason, from which synthetic oils are formed.

K. Crooks, Mr. and Mrs. Nelson Crooks and Miss Margaret Crooks were present from here.

Owing to darkness coming on a most capable young aviator by name of Smith, flying a Taylor Cub made a forced landing here at 5:30 o'clock Thursday evening last bringing his plane down in fine shape in a field on the O. MANY NEVER SUSPECT CAUSE OF BACKACHES

This Old Treatment Often Brings Happy Relief

Many sufferers relieve nagging backache quickly, once they discover that the real cause of their trouble may be tired kidneys.

The kidneys are Nature's chief way of taking the excess acids and waste out of the blood. They help most people pass about 3 pints a day.

When disorder of kidney function permits poisonous matter to remain in your blood, it may cause nagging backache, rheumatic pains, leg pains, loss of pep and energy, getting up nights, swelling, puffiness under the eyes, headaches and dizziness. Frequent or scanty passages with smarting and burning sometimes shows there is something wrong with your kidneys or bladder.

Don't wait! Ask your druggist for Doan's Pills, a stimulant diuretic, used successfully by millions for over 40 years. Doan's give happy relief and will help the 15 miles of kidney tubes flush out poisonous waste from your blood. Get Doan's Pills.

As a result we may feel full of gassy bloating and other indigestion miseries. That's when you need Beecham's Pills. They work to relieve this congestion of waste and encourage the welcome elimination which helps promote better digestion below the belt. Ask your druggist for gentle, all-vegetable Beecham's Pills today. Caution: Use only as directed. 25¢.

More Than Eighty Attend Kiwanis Club Ladies' Night Party at North Warren

The annual ladies' night staged by the local Kiwanis Club in the North Warren Community house Wednesday evening proved one of the most delightful parties in the long history of the organization. About eighty were in attendance including members and their ladies

The tables for the dinner, served by members of the Civic Club of North Warren, were decorated in a fall motif, corn cobs and yellow candles blending with baby chrysanthemums and other fall flowers. This feature of the party was in charge of Russell Hanson and his committee and drew many words of praise from the members and guests.

President J. R. Elliott presided and Webster Sechrist said grace before the dinner. The group singing was led by A. N. McCausland with R. Pierce Eaton at the piano. A number of guests and new members were introduced before special prizes were awarded the ladies by H. J. Ledebur and his committee.

The winner of the grand prize was Mrs. Gust Carlson. Other winners were Mrs. Charles Springer, Mrs. O. E. Loper, Mrs. Arnold Whren, Mrs. Jay McCausland, Mrs. H. W. Ledebur, Mrs. J. A. Blomquist, Mrs. H. W. Baker, Mrs. Roy Guignon, Mrs. Webster Sechrist, Mrs. H. D. Harris, Mrs. Everett Stoke, Mrs. J. R. Elliott, Mrs. L. E. Morlock, Mrs. James Miller and Mrs. George Irvin.

Following this, the evening was devoted to cards, bowling and round and square dancing. Music for the dancing was furnished by a trio composed of Mrs. Frank Nelson at the piano, Don Jones, drums, and Edgar Svensen violin. Calling for the square dances was by Lester Akeley.

Credit for the success of the party was due to the hard work and planning of L. E. Morlock and his committee in charge of arrangements.

At 4:30 p. m. Tuesday in First Lutheran church, Rev. Edward K. Rogers united in marriage Lucille Ann, daughter of Robert H. Morrison, 7 West Third avenue, and Gordon Lee Hanks, son of Mr. and Mrs. Dale Hanks, Clarion.

The vows were taken by candlelight, with vases of white chrysanthemums decorating the altar. Mrs. Glenn Engstrom, organist, played "Adoration" from "The Holy City" by Gaul, "O Promise Me" and "I Love You Truly" prior to the ceremony. A reception for 65 guests was held at the bride's home at 5 p. m., with table appointments in white and silver and Mrs. Clinton Hildum, Mrs. Leland Webster, Mrs. Fred Abendroth and Mrs. Sheridan Brown presiding. Later, the couple left for Cleveland and will be at home in Clarion after November 19. For traveling the bride chose a powder blue wool suit, black suede accessories and a corsage of white roses.

National Book Week

There has been considerable interest in the Book Week exhibits at the Warren Public Library this week. The high school art classes, under the direction of Mrs. Gerda Lawrence, have prepared an unusually attractive exhibit on a variety of subjects for the art gallery. The gallery is filled with the exhibits, which also include the prize Clare Tree Major play posters. The remainder of the posters will be on display next week. Children in the boys' and girls' department have been busy with the Book Week game, attempting to outshoot Robin Hood. The displays of new books give many reading and gift book suggestions for children and parents. There are also special displays centered in the Book Week theme, "United Through Books." International friendliness is again being stressed this year, with displays of the literature of many nations. The climax of Book Week will be the radio presentation of "Alice in Wonderland", for which the children have been rehearsing. The book is one of the children's favorites today, just has it has been ever since Lewis Carroll wrote it.

Jamestown Man Gives Fine Talk To BPW Members

Holding their November meeting at the YWCA activities building following dinner on Tuesday evening, members of the Warren Business and Professional Women's Club enjoyed an informal, but very interesting and informative talk on synthetic fabrics, given by Harry Ingleson, of Jamestown, N. Y. His talk dealt principally with changes in style trends which closed many of the country's worsted mills and the efforts made to find synthetic fibres through chemical research. He illustrated many of his points with samples of fabrics and answered questions at the close of his remarks.

He was presented to the club by Wyona Stone, chairman of the evening's committee, who with her assistants had provided a lovely table setting of fall flowers and candles, with place cards indicative of Thanksgiving.

President Ruth Fenderson conducted the business session which followed when reports were given by Violet Peterson, Ethel Patchen and Viola Lindmark. Mrs. Daisy Branch was welcomed as a new member and Mrs. Byron Ensworth was presented as a special guest who had aided materially in a recent club project. Gladys Wilson, transferred here from the Youngsville Club, was also greeted.

Individual members contributed a total of $25 for Christmas bags to be sent to Deshon Hospital and plans were made for Christmas. A report by Lila Schuler showed 49 members had contributed a total of 119 items and $5 in cash for the recent Needlework Guild collection.

World Fellowship Program At the YWCA Saturday

The YWCA world fellowship committee is completing plans for its observance of World Fellowship Week at the activities building on Saturday of this week, when the program scheduled at 2:30 o'clock will feature Rev. Edward K. Rogers as speaker. Rev. Rogers has recently returned from serving as an army chapel overseas and will bring a message that will be of interest to all.

As in the past years, buying a ticket for the World Fellowship program really means that one is making a contribution to the world work of the Y. W. C. A. The Y. W. C. A. is at work in 62 countries and no one can doubt that the needs are varied and many. Last year Warren's contribution to the World Work of the Y. W. C. A. was $149.10. It is hoped that this year Warren will better its record.

Interest has been evident in the sale and use of the Y. W. C. A. World Fellowship stamps. This red, white and blue stamp was designed to be used by associations in promotion of the World Fellowship Work and pictures the blue triangle which is the symbol of the Y. W. C. A. throughout the world, a globe and the words Y. W. C. A. World Fellowship. The Warren Y. W. C. A. still has some of these stamps, the proceeds of which go to the World Fellowship Fund. Those who have not yet shared in the worldwide service of the Y. W. C. A. can do so by purchasing the seals from committee and board members or at the Y. W. C. A. on Saturday afternoon at the World Fellowship program.

Mrs. F. J. Kotmair was toastmistress for the evening. Guest speakers included Rev. M. E. Dailey and Rev. Alfred Bauer, of Warren, and Rev. M. J. Macken of Clarendon. Mrs. G. B. Monroe gave a very interesting and amusing review of the history of the C. D. of A. since 1922. Mrs. W. E. Cooney, grand regent, congratulated the committee on its splendid work in preparing the menu and clever table arrangements.

A varied musical program was enjoyed with group singing. Mrs. G. W. Cunninghan, guest soloist for the evening, sang "Oh What a Beautiful Morning and "The Irish Lullaby" accompanied by Mrs. T. Donnelly.

The committee in charge of the affair was capably handled by Mrs. F. J. Kotmair, assisted by Miss Laura Plateroti, and Mrs. Roy Baker, co-chairmen.

Buy And Hold Victory Bonds

THE BIG VICTORY LOAN IS ON!

BUY EXTRA BONDS!

WHAT FOR? THE WAR IS OVER!

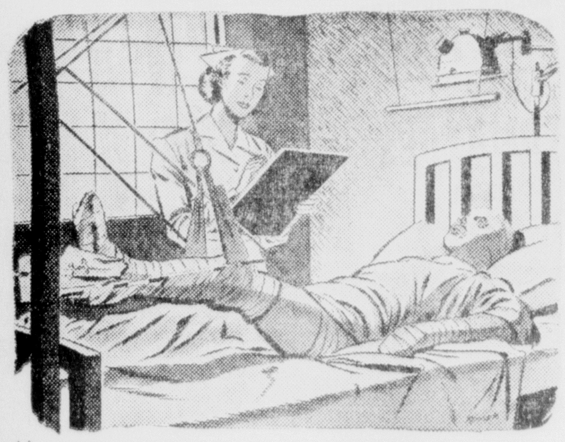

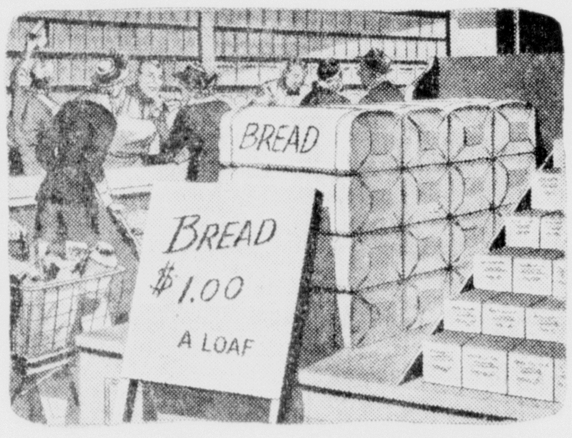

SURE!.. BUT THE NEED ISN'T! HERE'S WHY!

"There are a couple of million Americans overseas. They've fought and won a mighty tough war for us. Now they're anxious to come home. Bringing 'em home takes money—plenty of money—just as much as it cost to send them over. You can figure out that one yourself."

"Don't forget the men who were hurt fighting our war! They need care—the very best. And that, friend, is a major expense. And how about the millions of fellows being discharged? They certainly rate mustering-out pay, and the benefits provided by the G. I. Bill of Rights. All this costs money—money you invest in Victory Bonds."

"Inflation is an old scare—but a very real one. Right now, Americans have unlimited buying power. If we unleash that power all at once, while commodities are still limited... just you watch prices skyrocket! Your hard-earned dollars won't be worth very much then. Think it over! And buy extra bonds with your extra bucks to guard against run-away prices."

REMEMBER! A VICTORY BOND IS THE SOUNDEST, MOST PROFITABLE INVESTMENT YOU CAN MAKE TODAY! FOR EVERY 3 DOLLARS INVESTED, YOU GET 4 IN RETURN!

Citation For Carrier Unit

Word has been received from S/Sgt. Keith Culbertson, Kinzua, who is now based at Nanking, China, that his unit, the 315th Troop Carrier Squadron, has received the Distinguished Unit Citation, which reads in part:

"For outstanding performance of duty in action from Sept. 5 to Sept. 30, 1945. Upon capitulation of the Japanese and the cessation of hostilities in China, it became immediately necessary for Chinese forces to be placed in a position to control the beaten enemy and enforce surrender terms. Due to the extreme urgency of the situation, it was essential to travel by the fastest means.

"The 443rd Troop Carrier Group, 1st, 2nd and 315th Troop Carrier Squadrons, assigned, and the 322nd Troop Carrier Squadron, attached, were given the high priority mission of transporting an entire Chinese army of 30,000 men from Chihkiang to Nanking. Within one week the group moved itself from the base at Dinjan, India, over The Hump to Chihkiang, China, where a field camp was established and operations begun under arduous field conditions.

"In 26 days the groups moved more than 33,000 Chinese troops and 700 other personnel to Nanking, seat of the Nationalist government, a total of 5,000 tons of personnel, supplies and equipment.

"Flying without adequate navigational aids over rugged terrain and through unpredictable weather conditions, the groups maintained a high flying safety record under operating conditions more severe than normally encountered in combat operations. An average number of 82 trips daily were completed".

Corry Baby Snatching Has Warren County Vet Involved

Corry has a baby snatching case and from reports there it involves a Warren county war veteran. The Corry Journal yesterday had the following on the matter:

Quite a stir was caused about town last evening when it was reported that an eighteen-month-old child had been taken by its soldier-father from a home on the south side, where it was being cared for by relatives of the mother, reported to have been estranged for some time from the soldier-husband. So far as could be learned this morning the babe had not been returned to the local home, but the case had not been reported to either the city police headquarters or to the state police station here.

The report indicated that the soldier had arrived here yesterday and gone to the home where the baby was cared for while the mother was employed in a nearby town. He asked permission to bring the child to the business section to buy clothing and other gifts for it. Later when he failed to return, the grandmother and a sister of the mother hired a car and made a trip to the Blue Eye district, where the parents of the soldier reside. At the farm they were told that he had not been there. They then drove to the homes of others of his relatives near Spring Creek, but failed to find any trace of the man or child and the babe was not back at the home when they returned here.

They said that they would report the matter immediately to the state and city police, but the officers had no word of the case this morning.

Whether some word was later received from the father or he had contacted the mother of the babe could not be learned today. It is believed, however, that some development took place which allayed the anxiety over the child's whereabouts or a report would have been made to the police.

National Farm Loan Groups Planning Reorganization Move

"The most far-reaching plan for the benefit of national farm loan associations in the twenty-eight year history of the Federal Land Bank System is now being presented to the directors of the 207 associations in the Second Farm Credit District," stated Robert J. Adsit, secretary-treasurer of the Meadville, Pa., group of associations.

H. S. Nelson and J. L. Ulrich representatives of The Federal Land Bank of Baltimore, presented the plan to the directors of the Meadville Group national farm loan associations at a meeting held in Meadville, Pa., November 8, 1945.

Mr. Adsit stated that the twofold objective of the reorganization plan is to strengthen the financial condition of the national farm loan associations to mold a more efficient and economical organization to serve the long-term credit needs of farmers.

This program will enable all associations in Delaware, Maryland, Pennsylvania, Virginia and West Virginia to redeem at par value the shares of stock held by all former borrowers whose loans have been repaid—same to become effective in 1946.

The Federal Land Bank will make available to the associations the necessary funds with which to redeem all retired stock and will establish substantial reserves to help maintain the future solvency of the associations. Certain associations will consolidate in order to operate on a more efficient and economical basis.

This accomplishment is designed to fortify the permanent cooperative mortgtge credit system through which farmers may obtain long-term loans at low interest rates.

The following national farm loan association officers and directors attended this meeting: Harley Blood, Ross Moward, John Nierman and Walter Tucker from Crawford County; Bert Carr, W. C. Himrod, Russell Walker, Fenton Yaple from Erie County; E. H. Connor, Isaac Clark, Charles Vernam from Mercer County; E. D. Griffin, Charles Servey, Frank Sterrett, James Sharp from Venango County; Thomas Akeley, E. Nash Bailey, Oscar Benson, Ira Johnson, D. Paul Triskett from Warren County.

Jap Scalawags Cut Down Old Banyan Tree of Gen. Grant's

By HAL BOYLE

Nagasaki—(AP)—Today we have ad news for General Grant. Some apanese scalwags cut down his d banyan.

They not only cut it down—they led the site high with stones and ubble. So if any member of the rant fan league planned to come it to Japan next year to pluck a memorial twig from the Grant banyan tree he may as well save himself the passage money. Twigs, leases, trunk and memorial tablets all vanished—the Grant banyan tree is gone, a casualty of the second World War.

The story goes back 66 years before the atomic bomb brought the full impact of American military culture to Nagasaki.

Our emissary to this Japanese port city in 1879 was Gen. Ulysses Simpson Grant, regarded by some as the Cival War's human forerunner of the atomic bomb.

Grant came, however, as an unofficial ambassador of peace. Only two years before, he had been released from further White House duty by a grateful citizenry who then thought two terms as president were enough.

The general and Mrs. Grant called at Nagasaki on a world tour. He was feted and hailed as "Grant-Shogun" and local Japanese dignitaries took him out to Suwa Park and asked him to plant a souvenir tree—in those days tree-planting seemed to be the equivalent of modern cornerstone-laying ceremonies.

The wiskered general, presumably puffing on his famous cigar, went to work with a will. He planted well. Long after the general and his tomb had become the chief tourist attraction of riverside drive, his banyan tree still flourished in Nagasaki, an obpect pointed out to all American visitors.

As late as 1941 the official guide to Japan put out by the Japanese government railways still listed the banyan tree as an attraction "of special interest to foreign visitors."

Late in that year there occurred an event at Pearl Harbor which made further publication of the guide unnecessary. The tourist industry slumped sharply.

Realizing that many Grant students back home must be worried over whether the renowned banyan tree had weathered the atomic bomb blast, we led the first American expedition to determine its fate. Two British correspondents who came along, as observers to protect other Allied interests, grumbled when they found we first had to climb 187 stone steps leading to the "bronze horse temple."

But we pushed on. At the top a middle-aged Japanese civilian agreed with many gold-toothed grins, to show us the banyan tree of "Grant-Shogun." Mopping perspiring faces we followed him around the winding path to a clearing along the trees where stood a great mound of stone and rubble.

"Grant-Shogun banyan tree there," he said, pointing to the mass of stone. But there was no banyan tree, no tree of any kind.

"Where?" we asked.

"Chop down. Chop-chop," he grinned. His smile faded, however, when we turned accusing looks on him.

"Not me!" He exclaimed in perfect broken English, and left hurriedly; galloping back down the 187 steps two at a time.

Questioning other Japanese, Glenn Babb, Associated Press Foreign Editor, learned that Grant's banyan memorial had been cut down with several other trees three years ago to make space in which to dump dirt and stone from air raid shelters dug in the surrounding hills. Neither park nor adjoining temple shrine were affected by the atomic bomb, which exploded several miles away.

No trace of Grant's banyan tree or stone memorial tablet, both victims of the American air campaign, is left.

It remains for other Grant scholars to establish what happened to the Grant pine tree which the general planted in Siba Park, Tokyo, in 1879—apparently one of his busiest tree-planting years. This column can take up only one Grant tree at a time.

In India it is generally the wife's younger sister who is taken as a second wife when the first wife is barren or suffers from an incurable disease.

Prize Essays Feature High School Event

Parents Night, held at the high school last evening in observance of American Education Week, was attended by a good sized crowd of parents and school patrons. Many took advantage of the opportunity of greeting teachers in their respective rooms and others came to discuss their children's work and problems.

At eight o'clock a fine program was presented in the auditorium with Anthony Vescio, chairman of the Student Council assembly committee, welcoming the parents and introducing the students on the program. These program numbers included reading of the prize winning B'Nai B'Rith essays by their authors and special numbers presented by the music department. The program was as follows:

Richard Harris, "Securing the Peace"; Joyce Dorrance, "Unemployment a Postwar Problem"; Nancy Maneval, vocal solo, "Serenade" by Romberg, with Jean Smith at the piano; Elizabeth Bathurst, "Strengthening Our Home Life"; Wayne Klenck, "Problems Inherited From the War"; Neil Swanson, cornet solos, "Beautiful Dreamer" by Stephen Foster and "I Dreamed I Dwelt in Marble Halls" from Offenbach's "Tales of Hoffman", with Harry Summers as accompanist; Eleanor Nelson, "Problems Inherited From the War".

The essays read by the young people, dealing with vital present day problems, will be published in later issues of the Times-Mirror.

Phil Cavarreta Named Most Valuable In National League

New York, Nov. 15—(AP)—Phil Cavarretta of the Chicago Cubs, who hit an unofficial .355 during the past season and then whaled the ball for a .423 mark in the World Series against Detroit, has been voted the National League's most valuable player for 1945 by an overwhelming margin.

The 29-year-old first baseman received 15 first place votes, seven seconds and one fifth out of 24 ballots cast by a committee representing the Baseball Writers' Association. He will be the second recipient of the Kenesaw Mountain Landis Memorial plaque, which first was awarded last year to Marty Marion, St. Louis Cardinals shortstop.

Cavarretta's total og 279 points out of a possible 336 placed him far in front of Tommy Holmes of the Boston Braves, who ran second with 175. The two battled for the National League batting championship most of the season, with Cavarretta winning out in the stretch.

Charley (Red) Barrett, St. Louis pitcher who won 23 games, placed third with 151 points, and Andy Pafko, Cubs centerfielder, was fourth with 131. George "Whitey" Kurowski of the Cards ran fifty with 90 points.

Although Holmes led the National League with 28 home runs and was the circuit's only batter to collect more than 200 hits, he was voted most valuable by only three writers as against the 15 who favored Cavarretta.

The Cubs' star made a great impression not only by his hustle and fine all-around play during the regular season, but also by his spectacular fielding and steady hitting in the World Series. Four writers chose Cavarretta's teammate, Pafko, for top honors, and one picked Hank Borowy, losing Cubs pitcher in the final game of the World Series. Marty Marion, the defending champ, did not receive a single vote for first.

Following are the point scores for the high 10, based on 14 points for first, nine for second, eight for third, and on down to one for tenth place. (First place votes are in parentheses):

Cavarretta, Cubs (15)	279
Hilmes, Braves (3)	175
Barrett, Cards (1)	151
Pafko, Cubs (4)	131
Kurowski, Cards 6	90
Borowy, Cubs (1)	84
Wyse, Cubs	72
Marion, Cards	69
Walker, Dodgers	66
Rosen, Dodgers	56

Jim Scalise High Scorer For 1945 Team

Jim Scalise, the Warren Dragon 165-pound fullback of the past season, led his teammates during the year in the touchdown tallying department, according to figures reeased today.

Scalise, who will perform with the Alegheny Valley All-Stars against the Shenango stars Friday night at Oil City, recorded a season aggregate of 9 touchdowns, 54 points, along with four extra points, to make a total of 58 points for the entire season.

Louie Bonace, the clever little quarterback, ranks second, and Dave Lopez, halfback, comes in on a close third. Bonace crossed the line four times for six-pointers, then added five extra points. Lopez also crossed for four touchdowns, but he had only a extra point.

Frank Shanshala and Don Duckett came in, respectively, fourth and fifth, in scoring. Shanshala had three scores to his credit, and Duckett boasted two.

Single touchdowns for the season were made by the following: Gerardi, Juliano, Hamilton, Reed, Bartholomew, Leonard, and Wollaston.

Army Recalls Court Upset Last Season

By TED MEIER

New York, Nov. 15—(AP)—Don't snicker too much at Penn's chances of turning in the football upset of the year by beating mighty Army at Franklin Field in Philadelphia Saturday.

On paper, everything points to the unbeaten, untied West Point Cadets making the Quakers their 17th straight victims, but it might be well to recall what happened to Army's famous 27-game basketball winning streak in Philly last February.

hen, as now, the Cadets had swept everything before them and were topheavy favorites. It looked like a runaway when Army rolled up an early 15-4 lead, but Penn pulled up to 29-25 at halftime, then went ahead in the second half for an astounding 61-52 triumph.

Basketball may be one thing, and football another, but if an underdog team catches fire, it doesn't matter whe sport is being played.

Earl Blaik, Army coach, recognizes the danger. He declared yesterday "This George Munger-coached Penn outfit is the toughest assignment Army has had to face in two years. In Bob Deuber and Don Schneider they have the necessary speed to cope with our backs." Blaik was also high on Penn's Bob Evans who threw four touchwon passes against Columbia.

Army's speedy Glen Davis and sturdy Doc Blanchard battered Penn to a 62-7 defeat last year, but Penn is much stronger this fall, as the record shows. The Quakers lost only to Navy, 14-7, and that setback came on a desperate Navy aerial in the last 25 seconds.

A sellout 73,000 crowd will sit in on the proceedings.

Navy's Bob Hoernschemeyer came up with a sore army yesterday and Coach Oscar Hagberg said the star forward passer would not play against Wisconsin at Baltimore Saturday.

In two other outstanding eastern games unbeaten and untied Holy Cross entertains once-beaten Temple while Columbia, seeking to regain a winning stride, battles Princeton at Princeton. Brown, upset winner over Yale last week, plays Harvard while the Eli tangle with the Coast Guard Academy.

Bob Fenimore, Reid Mosley Are In Lead

By HAROLD V. RATLIFF

Dallas, Nov. 15—(AP)—Oklahoma A. and M.'s Bob Fenimore and Georgia's Reid Moreley are threatening to upset precedent by repeating as total offense and pass-receiving champion respectively in the nation's college football but they're both finding title defense more difficult than the original winning.

The flying cowboy and the man from Gawgia are the only statistical champs of last year who returned to the 1945 grid wars.

Last year Fenimore left the field far behind as he set an all-time average gain of 219.8 yards per game. He has bettered that rate of rushing-passing advance this season, having traveled at a 233.2-yard clip through his first five games, yet he is just 42 yards ahead of Herman Wedemeyer of St. Mary's.

Moseley wound up with 32 catches in nine games last fall—six more than his nearest competitor. He, too, is going even better in the current campaign, after a slow start, with 21 snared in six contests, but has been unable to shake the challenge of Hubert Bechtol of Texas and Dennis O'Connor of St. Mary's, who are tied at 20 each, O'Connor in six games and Bechtol in seven.

Figures deleased today by Homer F. Cooke, Jr., director of the National Collegiate Athletic Bureau, covering all games through Nov. 3, show Fenimore and Wedemeyer far out in front in total offense, Fenimore with 1116 yards on 137 plays, and Wedemeyer with 1124 on 141 in six games. In third place is Allen Dekdebrun of Cornell with 960 yards on 199 plays.

Fenimore tops the field in rushing with 788 yards on 92 carries, with Glenn Davis of Army second with 691 yards on 54 runs in six games.

In forward passing it's Dekdebrun, who in six contests has hurled the ball 128 times and connected on 64 for 8721 yards. He leads Wedemeyer in completions by 21 and in yards by 65.

The top punter continues to be Howard Hawkins of Oklahoma who has booted 12 times for an average of 44.3, but the real leader is Harry Ghaul of Miami (Fla.) University, who has planted his toe in the ball 39 times and averaged 41.7.

"Stop the Amateurs" Cry Pros at Mobile, Alabama

Mobile, Ala., Nov. 15—(AP)—"Stop the amateurs" was the battle cry from the pro section today as approximately 140 golfers, including some of the nation's foremost shotmakers, started out on the first lap of Mobile's inaugural $10,000 Azalea open gilf tournament.

The "money boys' were reinforced for this fourth stop on the PGA winter circuit by additions of Jug McSpaden of Philadelphia and Ellsworth Vines of Denver.

The amateurs, on the other hand, picked up some substantial reinforcement of their own in the form of slender Freddy Haas of New Orleans, who stirred the golf world by breaking Byron Nelson's winning streak in Memphis several months ago.

Ed Rickenbacker Sells Speedway, Prefers Aviation

Indianapolis, Nov. 15—(AP)—Capt. Eddie Rickenbacker, a 70-mile-an-hour daredevil of the automobile tracks 30 years ago, will be only a visitor from the aviation business when the groundling speedsters compete next May 30 in their first 500-mile race since 1941.

"Rick" sold the two-and-a-half mile Indianapolis motor speedway yesterday to Anton Hulman, Jr., Terre Haute, Ind., sportsman and financier, for a price reported unofficially as about $750,000. Rickenbaker bought the plant in 1927 for $700,000.

The colorful captain, who went back to automobiles after shooting down 21 German airplanes and five balloons in the first world war, had to make a choice between his first love and his job as president of Eastern Air Lines. The newer mode of transportation won.

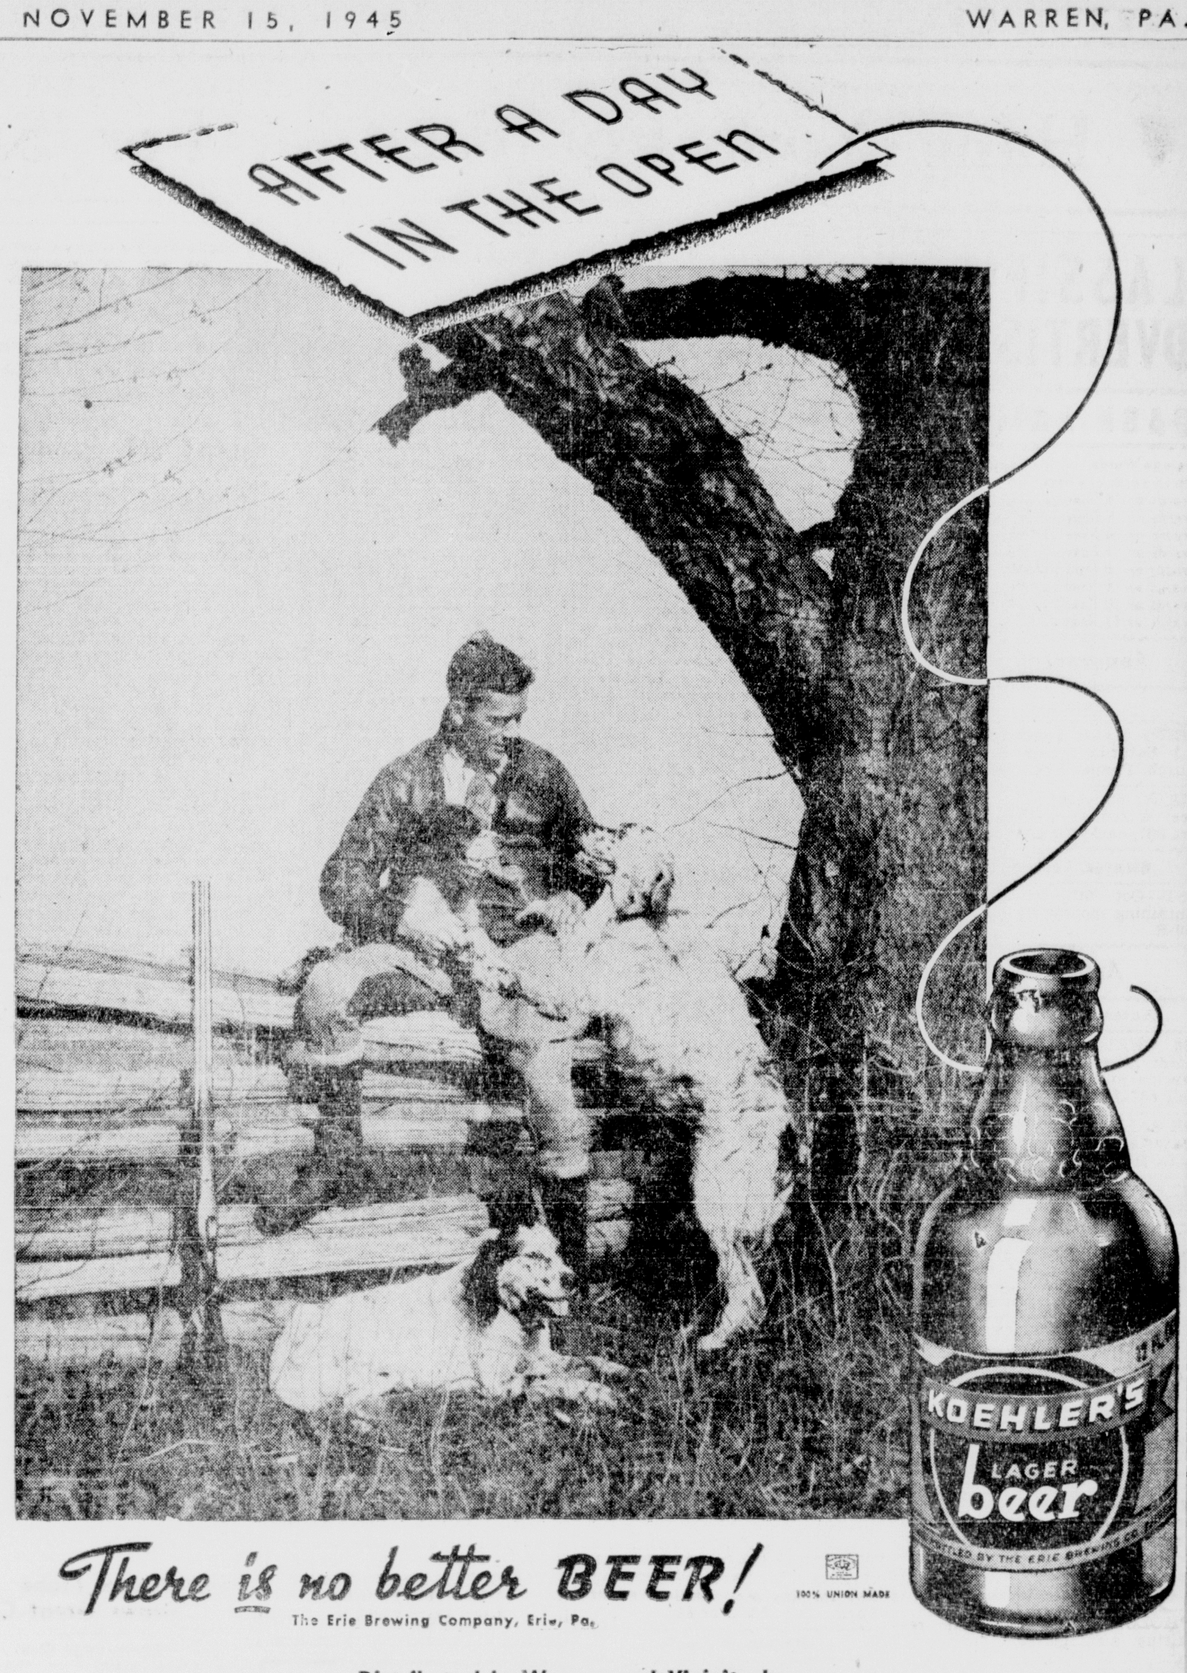

"The demands of running Eastern Airlanes make it impossible for me to give the speedway the attention which it damands and it is fortunate that I am able to dispose of my interest to Mr. Hulman," Rickenbaker said.

Girls Meet at YW Tonight To Discuss Court League

Possibilities of forming a girls' basketball league will get the once-over tonight when the team representatives and loop officials get together tonight at 7:15 at the YWCA for a final meeting before final action is taken.

All girls interested in forming a league are asked to attend the meeting. Teams who had representatives in the loop last season are also asked to be present.

Local Soldier Reported Dead In Jap Prison

Claude Bliss, 1007 Conewango avenue, was advised by the War Department in a message received yesterday that his son, Cpl. Clinton A. Bliss, missing in action and officially presumed dead, actually died on May 31, 1942, of malaria while held in Camp O'Donnell, Japanese prisoner of war camp in the Philippines.

The Bliss family was first notified in a message on June 22, 1942, that the young infantryman had been in the Philippines when Bataan fell and it was not known if he had been taken prisoner. He was the second Warren county soldier to be reported missing in the fall of the Philippines.

On June 1, 1944, the Times-Mirror learned from the family that he had been officially presumed dead as of May 8, 1944, since two years had elapsed with no word concerning him. The latest message, from Major General Edward Witsell, acting for the adjutant general, states that official word of his death on May 31, 1942, has now been received.

Cpl. Bliss was serving with the regular army at Manila when this country declared war in 1941 and little is known of his actions after that date.

He attended Jefferson county schools before coming to Warren and was a student at Grove City College for part of one term. He was employed by the Fairweather interests at Kane at the time of his enlistment in the army. When news of him was first received, his family resided on Hatch Run, moving to Conewango avenue only recently.

His mother died in January, 1944, and besides his father he leaves these brothers and sisters: William, Berwyn, Baraba and Betty, at home; Duane Bliss, Mrs. Richard Seder and Mrs. Lawrence O'Lay, Warren; Mrs. Charles Fulton, Niagara Falls, N. Y.; Mrs. George McCool, Erie.

Pearl Harbor Probe Draws Great Crowd

committee—half from the senate half from the house—called its first witnesses just three years, eleven months and eight days after the disastrous Japanese blow.

"As far as the committee's investigation is concerned, you might say today is December 6, 1941," Senator Scott Lucas (D-Ill), one of the committeemen, told reporters.

"We will be laying the groundwork for what happened December 7."

An 8-by-10 foot relief map of porkchop-shaped Camu Island stood near the committee's table as the front of the marble-walled caucus room in the senate office building where daily sessions are scheduled from 10 until noon and from 2 to 4 p. m.

and the police opened fire. Gunfire was continuing.

Furniture presumably looted from the light industries building was being burned in the street, the British declared. Thousands of persons were said to be milling through the streets in defiance of rigid new curfew restrictions.

Many shops also reopened in violation of the curfew, the announcement said.

Underpass on Pennsylvania Avenue To Be Opposed

shipments from Erie to the east coast. Revenue is expected to drop. However it is pointed out that the railroad is constructing additional yard facilities at Erie, preparing to handle more grain there, etc. Traffic from the main line has also been moved through Warren to Pittsburgh and with the huge postwar business in the offing this may be used for years. Incidentally the Pennsylvania tore up one of its double tracks from Erie to Emporium after the first World War and sadly lacked needed facilities when World War II came.

The other plan of the railroad would enlarge the curves near the Smith-Horton plant and elevate the rails several feet so that larger engines to be placed on the division could negotiate them. The bridge then would be built on its present site but the south end would be swung up the river, one or two additional spans put in place, the river widened and deepened at this place. This would eliminate several bad curves on the South side of the bridge.

In the event that this plan is used Chestnut street at Fourth avenue would have to be closed to all use. At Pennsylvania avenue an underpass would have to be built to carry Route 6 under the railroad tracks. Such an underpass would have to start underground near the Struthers-Wells plant and would have the eastern end near Beech street, if it is not found necessary to close Beech street at Pennsylvania avenue. This plan is expected to cost about $1,500,000, a considerable saving over the proposed bridge crossing at FN Tower.

The plans have been widely discussed by various organizations about the city and the general opinion as reflected in groups about the city is that the elevating of the rail line and the underpass will be opposed by Warren people generally.

Eisenhower Favors Peace Time Training

manpower and technological advancement are "our greatest assurance of keeping the peace for which we fought."

Upon expiration of selective service, the general said, the nation should be prepared to start training young men who have had no military experience.

Although veterans of this war constitute a trained reserve, he said, "we must keep it constantly and currently reinforced by younger increments trained in all the most advanced techniques which research and development in the technology of warfare" are bringing forth.

"We must train them to avert World War III, not refight World War II," Eisenhower said.

of the United States troop carrier squadron in flying two armies north from Hankow and Shanghai. In addition, the U. S. 7th Fleet provided transportation to more Nationalist troops for landings in North China.

There is no question but that the great delay in disarming Japanese troops in Peiping has provided the Nationalist forces with additional power in opposing the Communists.

There has been little direct or reliable information from inside Manchuria.

APPROVAL IS GIVEN FOR MEADVILLE HIKE

Meadville, Nov. 15—(AP)—Employes of the Meadville Malleable Iron Works Co. today received word that the War Labor Board had given final approval to a four-cents-an hour differential for the second shift and six cents for the third shift.

A part of the award was retroactive to June 6, 1944 the rest to Aug. 27, 1945. The workers also were granted increased vacation time. Previously they were given one day for each year of service up to five years. Now, they will receive a week's vacation after one year's service two week's after five years.

The word came while about 125 to 140 of the company's workers were idle in a work stoppage which the company and the CIO-United Steelworkers agreed was not a strike.

Smith & Horton Co. Planning Erection of Bottling Plant

Emmons Jones, secretary and manager of the Smith-Horton Wholesale Company, announced today one of the most important expansion plans that the company has made in years. The company has just signed contracts for the bottling rights in Warren for Ma's Old Fashioned Root Beer, Pepsi-cola and One-Mor. These fine beverages will be bottled and dispensed in this territory by the local company.

Mr. Jones further announced that plans are being prepared for the erection next spring of a complete bottling plant on property at Fourth avenue and Chestnut street. This will be one of the finest plants of the kind in this section and in addition to the three beverages announced above the firm will also manufacture and turn out a complete line of competitive beverages such as ginger ale, sodas of various kinds under the firm name of Golden Club.

The new plant will be complete and equipped with the most modern machinery for manufacturing and bottling and it will have a capacity of one million cases of the beverage each year.

This will make the second big building project announced by the company in a short time, as on the east side of Chestnut street they plan to erect a large building as an adjunct of their beer distribution business. The company is now handling Simon Pure Beer and Rolling Rock Beer and Old Abbey and other ales.

It is interesting to note relative to the expansion program of the company that the Glendora Coffee branch is now employing more men than ever before in its history and the sales are mounting rapidly.
